Settlement Plan Studied In 8-Week Truck Strike

Stubborn violence dogged trucks in western Pennsylvania today, despite a proposed settlement of the two-month strike by independent steel haulers.

Police said three truck windshields were smashed by rocks and another rig peppered by a shotgun blast along the Pennsylvania Turnpike. No one was hurt.

Meanwhile, steel truck convoys continued to move through this area. One went through East Liverpool this morning and headed north, accompanied by Ohio Highway Patrol cruisers.

The haulers, who own their rigs and contract to trucking firms, stayed off the highways until they can see the proposal. Strike leaders said they're happy with the agreement.

The Teamsters Union approved the pact.

But the third party in the dispute was split.

Howard Miller, president of the National Steel Carriers Association representing 68 firms, declined comment on the agreement.

A spokesman for 50 truckers who have split with the national association over policy differences said, "We're meeting, and we feel that we can resolve this thing and give them our answer quickly."

At Rogers, a convoy of 42 trucks passed at 7:45 a. m. escorted by Patrol cars, several private cars, a radio - equipped truck and others.

The Patrol helicopter was overhead scouting for possible interference sites, and a cruiser was stopped in the village.

Most of the trucks had extra men in the cabs.

Patrol cruisers and Sheriff's cars were stationed at strategic locations along Routes 30 and 7. Officers said, "Everything went like clockwork." There were no incidents.

They said most of the trucks were hauling from the Crucible Steel Co. plant at Midland, although some entered Ohio via the Chester Bridge and evidently came from Weirton Steel.

Only six or eight striking steel-haulers were on picket duty as the convoy passed the truck stops at Routes 7 and 14 east of Columbiana.

William J. Hart, Secretary of Labor for Pennsylvania, said the national steel carriers will make known its decision by Saturday. Hart announced terms of the proposal Tuesday.

The proposal would give truckers a 5 per cent increase in hauling fees and $10 per hour penalty payment beyond the

Gun Bumped, Boy Wounded Accidentally

A 15-year-old Midland youth is in "satisfactory" condition today at City Hospital with an accidental gunshot wound of the cheek.

Fred Graham, son of Mrs. Mary Graham of 49 Hillcrest Manor, was hit in the cheek with a slug from a .22 rifle that was discharged when it was knocked from a dresser at the home Tuesday at 12:20 p.m.

The gun was bumped by John Waddingham Jr., 16, son of Mr. and Mr. and Mrs. John Waddingham of 108 Hillcrest Manor. The boys, who are good friends, are both students at Midland Lincoln High School.

They were home for lunch. John called at the home for Fred, who was resting on his bed. As young Waddingham entered the room, he accidentally

Bombing Viet Port Won't Shorten War-McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara again says the war in Vietnam would not be shortened by U.S. bombing or mining of the enemy's port of Haiphong.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff and several Senate hawks have urged military action to knock out the North Vietnamese port, a key center for movement of supplies. McNamara has consistently opposed this.

McNamara, in Senate testimony Aug. 25, released Tuesday, said Hanoi would move its supplies over other routes to its forces and the Viet Cong in South Vietnam if Haiphong harbor were destroyed.

He declared the civilian heads of the American government would continue to base bombing decisions on the basis of value of targets, risk to American pilots and avoidance of direct confrontation with Red China and the Soviet Union.

And in a heated exchange with Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., he denied President Johnson's war policy is a no-win policy.

Thurmond maintained "we seem to be more concerned over the civilian casualties in the North than we are over our own casualties in the South."

McNamara replied he knew of no evidence to support such a conclusion and "I, myself, strongly object to such a conclusion."

McNamara said he did not believe there was a wide gulf between civilian and military leaders in Washington on the question of how much bombing of the North should be carried out.

He said much of the difference involves about five per cent of targets not authorized.

The secretary said rejection by civilian leaders of target lists proposed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff did not show a lack of confidence in the military leaders.

The defense secretary said North Vietnam would have to quit the war if supplies from the Soviet Union and Red China could be stopped but added he knew of no way militarily or politically that this could be done.

He estimated the Soviet Union supplied Hanoi with about $670 million in aid last year, while the Communist Chinese contribution was about $150 million.

He said the enemy is also getting explosives from South Vietnam, where "the duds alone from our air and ground ordnance supply them with a tremendous stock of ammunition."

Reds Renew Firing Upon DMZ Areas

7 Marines Claimed In Quang Tri And Con Thien Attacks

SAIGON (AP) — Long-range Communist artillery and Red mortars opened up again Tuesday and today on U.S. Marine positions south of the demilitarized zone as sharp fighting was reported up and down South Vietnam.

Seven Marines were killed and 16 wounded in a Communist mortar attack today on a Marine bivouac near Quang Tri City, about 18 miles below the DMZ.

U.S. headquarters said the Marine outpost at Con Thien and other bases just below the border zone were hit Tuesday by 74 artillery and mortar shells, and 26 Marines were wounded, most of them slightly.

Some of the shells were 100-pound projectiles from big Russian-built 152mm cannon dug in across the DMZ in North Vietnam.

The barrages were a far cry from the 1,000 shells a day hurled at the Marine bases last month. But they indicated that despite tremendous American air and artillery bombardment of the Red positions in and above the DMZ, the North Vietnamese intend to maintain pressure on South Vietnam's shaky five northernmost provinces.

The day's battle reports listed other widely scattered fighting, including a Red suicide squad dash into a U.S. camp that killed seven Americans, and a Communist mortar attack in the Mekong Delta which killed four

Shafer Urges End To Milk Commission

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer, in an effort to revamp the state's milk control structure, recommended today the present three-member Milk Control Commission be abolished.

In its place, Shafer told the legislature in a special message, a nine-member Milk Advisory Committee should be formed, headed by secretary of Agriculture Leland H. Bull.

The new committee would also include two dairy farmers, two consumer representatives, two milk dealers, one retailer, and a milk marketing labor representative, Shafer said.

Shafer's plan also would empower the State Department of Agriculture, through its secretary and a new division, to enforce the provisions of the new law.

"This reorganization would involve the creation of a new Bureau of Dairy Industries, which would consist of a Division of Milk Sanitation and a new Di-

Woman Gives Chase But Gunman Makes Getaway With Loot

A woman storekeeper fired a tear gas gun at a young bandit Tuesday night in Glenmoor, but he escaped with $130 in bills.

The holdup was the third in two days in the East Liverpool area.

Mrs. Audra Gilmore, who with her husband Lawrence operates the Gilmore Sinclair Station on Route 267 at Cannons Mills Rd., said the robbery occurred about 10:40 while she was alone in the store part of the station "counting quarters in the cash register."

Sheriff's Deputy Robert Wellington said Mrs. Gilmore told him she heard a door close and looked up to see a small four-inch chrome gun in the hands of a young man.

She said he demanded, "Give me your money," then moved to the side of the register and took all the bills — an undetermined number of ones and fives and one ten.

While the robber was putting the bills in a "dark money bag," Mrs. Gilmore said she reached in a compartment beside the register, withdrew the tear gas gun and shot him.

The man swore, she related, then ran out the door and across the street. She said she saw him jump over a hedge and run behind a house. When she followed, he had disappeared.

Mrs. Gilmore said a neighbor told her she heard a car speed away on the Cannons Mills Rd.

Mrs. Gilmore said the robber was between 20 and 30 years

U.S. Approaches Two Statistical Landmarks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation will reach a double statistical landmark next month—a 200 million population and its longest economic expansion in history.

The Census Bureau said the exact date is still uncertain but the number of Americans, including servicemen overseas, should hit 200 million around mid-November. It took the nation until 1915 to reach its first 100 million persons and until 1950 to pass 150 million. But since then, it has added the equivalent of a New York, a California, a Pennsylvania and then some.

If the economic boom continues through next month—and economists now see it extending well into 1968—it will mark 81 months of expansion, the longest ever.

THE PRESENT record is 80 months extending through World War II.

The current expansion began in February of 1961 but the boom hasn't been without its troubles. It took two tax cuts in the early 1960s to keep it going and a tax increase last year—suspension of the 7 per cent investment tax credit—to prevent it from going too fast.

The boom took a breather during the first half of this year but economists count it as part of the expansion.

Now the Johnson Administration wants Congress to approve a 10 per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes to slow down what it believes will be excessive growth resulting in inflation.

The boom is partly the product of the so-called new economics—the philosophy that the economy can be regulated by raising or lowering taxes and federal spending.

SOME GOVERNEMENT economists now contend the very existence of the new economics is at stake in the fight over the surcharge, now bogged deeply

$133,500 Set For Schools At Wellsville

The Wellsville school system will receive $133,500 in school foundation funds, Supt. Don Lowe learned Tuesday after meeting with state school officials in Columbus.

The figure is below the $140,000 expected.

Lowe pointed out the state cut $3,825 from the total due to two Filipino teachers in the Wellsville system who, although they have 18 years experience between them, have not taught in public schools. Their teaching experience was in the Philippines.

Lowe also said that $7,000 was

Rotary Service Urged By District Governor

A four-point program of service to others was urged for local Rotarians Tuesday noon during their meeting at the Travelers Hotel by Lindsey Williams, district governor and publisher of the Rittman Press at Rittman, Ohio.

Speaking during his annual visit, Williams told the members that "problems are opportunities for progress" in the man, the club, the community, the nation and the world.

He declared that because of the troubled world situation, Rotary's most important conribution today is that of "helping to create an understanding of the interests and aspirations of others."

HE SAID such understanding tends to cultivate mutual respect — the best basis for international relations and world peace.

"Rotary is the only non-political, non-religious organization with extensive, trusted contacts in every community throughout the non-Communist world," he declared.

"The 600,000 Rotarians in 134 nations are just beginning to realize what a priceless system of international communication they have at their disposal," said Williams. "The potential for peace is lurking under the surface of every international service project they carry out."

Some of the international service projects suggested by the Rotary governor was an exchange of both high school and college students, overseas exchange tours among groups of young businessmen and advisory work in developing nations by retired Rotarians.

Williams urged members to "get personally involved" in Rotary. "So long as Rotary is experienced as a simple appeal to the heart, for comradeship in service to others, it can move men to great endeavor."

A THIRD suggestion by Williams for more effective Rotary membership was, "Be loyal to your community and nation and serve them wherever possible."

He told the members that East Liverpool is "dead on its feet" and that it is up to them to bring it back to the top.

He said these are "testing times" for all communities. Some lose industry and population through the attraction of larger centers. In turn, larger centers suffer from overcrowding and a loss of identity.

The governor concluded his proposed program of service with a reminder to Rotarians that they should exercise leadership by being successful in their own businesses or professions.

"Success is the stamp of approval that other men give to individual effort," said Williams. "It is the recognition that personal contribution and personal service to society is useful and helpful.

"A recipe for success," Williams said, "is expressed in the old Rotary slogan — he profits most who serves best."

Following the regular meeting, the governor participated in an "assembly" of local officers and committee chairman to plan service projects for the coming year.

Horace Mann Group Meets

More than 100 attended the first meeting of the new term of the Horace Mann home and school association Tuesday night.

James Cunningham is president.

New officers were introduced by Cunningham and Milton, Watson, principal, introduced the teachers.

A ways and means committee was appointed. Members are Cunningham, Mrs. Ruth Osborne, Lee Kriner, James Arcuragi, Alonzo Spencer, Mrs. Lawrence Madden and Watson.

A contribution of $25 was made to the Child Counseling Center and $20 was given each teacher for supplies.

Thomas Rodfong, a candidate for Board of Education, was among those attending.

The combination second and third grade room won the attendance award.

The next meeting will be Dec. 12 at East Junior High School when the students will present a Christmas program.

Doctor's Charges Rise, More Increases Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors' fees, which have increased spectacularly in the last year, are likely to continue rising sharply, government officials say.

And doctors' incomes—top among professions—are increasing even faster than their fees.

Federal officials express concern about doctor fees and other medical costs. They are encouraging such changes as more group practice by doctors and use of more physician assistants. But they say it will be years before such changes could have a major impact on fees.

The medical-cost outlook for the American public appears grim.

Demand for doctors' services is expected to increase by one-third between 1965 and 1975, according to the so-called Gorham Report on medical costs, submitted to President Johnson earlier this year.

The supply of doctors for the period is expected to increase by only 17 per cent—and not even that much for family doctors.

As the demand for doctors' services runs ahead of the supply of doctors, the report says "this exerts pressure" which leads them to raise fees.

Doctors' fees increased for years at about the same pace as wages. But in 1966, they jumped 7.8 per cent. And the latest Bureau of Labor Statistics figures show an increase of 8.9 per cent from August 1966 to August this year.

Doctors' income apparently has been rising much faster because they work more and because of medicare. Under medicare, doctors can charge full fees to elderly patients many traditionally had undercharged. The same is true for low-income patients qualifying for the new medicaid program.

Reliable figures on doctors' salaries are scarce. The Bureau of Labor Statistics, admitting its information is sketchy, says the annual income of doctors in private practice in 1966 appeared to be between $20,000 and $27,000 generally.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, charging last week "there is no excuse whatsoever for this relentless escalation in physicians' fees," said doctors make $35,000 to $40,000 a year.

Meany said in a letter to Secretary John W. Gardner of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare that medicare is in part responsible for the increases.

Excess Smoking Can Boost Incidence Of Heart Disease

WASHINGTON (AP) — Men who smoke heavily, have high blood pressure or high blood cholesterol levels may be as prone to heart disease as men 15 years older, a National Heart Institute study concludes.

Being overweight also adds to the risk of heart disease, but it's of lesser importance than the other conditions, the study found.

Men between the ages 30 and 62 were studied. Risk increases were most striking between 30 and 39.

The institute scientists found, on the average, a man could be considered as great a risk for heart disease as a man 15 years older if he smokes more than a package of cigarettes a day, has blood cholesterol level twice the normal or has a systolic blood pressure 50 per cent above the normal 120.

The findings are based on a 12-year study of 5,127 adults in Framingham, Mass.

Reporting the findings in the "Journal of Chronic Diseases," Dr. William Kannel of the National Heart Institute says, "A man can do little about his chronological age, but something can be done about these other factors that insofar as his risk of a heart attack is concerned, make him old beyond his years.

"With a physician's help, elevated blood pressure and cholesterol levels can be reduced."

And Kannel said that "even without a physician's help, a man who smokes cigarettes can substantially reduce his risk just by kicking the habit.

"If the cigarette smoking habit could be eliminated in this country, our death rate from coronary heart disease would fall substantially."

Doctors can reduce a person's blood pressure with drugs and special diets. Cholesterol in the blood also can be kept down by diet.

Halloween Party Will Be Held By Group At Church

Following the hayride, a wiener roast and group singing were featured. Judy Allen was in charge of arrangements, assisted by Dean Allen, Marwin Merriman, Dan Skidmore, John Paynter, David Goodman, Kevin Sanford, Craig Walton and Dick Landis.

On Sunday after the 7 p. m. church service, a "Destination Unknown" was held at the home of Delmas Sanford in Dixonville, with Craig and Pauline Walton in charge.

Refreshments were served 40 by Doris Sanford, Emily Goodman and Roberta Pennybaker. Thanks was returned by Sharon Knott.

Yankee Go Home Movement

Adding to the Vietnam confusion is the emergency of a new anti-American movement with much of the fuel coming from the military government.

Criticism is coming from the South Vietnam government, anti-government forces and newspapers.

The United States has been accused of interfering in South Vietnam's internal affairs and seeking to force the South Vietnamese into an unsatisfactory peace pact with the Communists.

U.S. officials attribute the movement to a growing sense of confidence among the South Vietnamese. The feeling is growing that U.S. participation in the war is no longer as necessary as in 1965.

There is, of course, the traditional friction generated by the presence of foreign troops in a country although the troops are allies.

It is somewhat surprising to many Americans in Vietnam that much of the anti-Americanism is coming from the government that owes its present strong position to the United States.

With anti-Americanism on the rise, it is beginning to look like the American effort in Vietnam is going to turn out like so many other cases where the United States has played Big Brother.

Other countries have developed to perfection the ability to get what they want from the United States, then turn their backs on heir friend until the next crisis comes along.

There is a big difference in the case of Vietnam, however. The United States isn't sending just money and goods to the Southeast Asian country, it is sending American men — and many of them aren't coming back.

The game the South Vietnamese are playing could turn out to be quite dangerous.

So far President Johnson has risked the ire of anti-war factions in the United States and has ignored disfavor in much of the world community to remain true to what he feels is the American commitment to South Vietnam.

But he cannot shrug off the position of the South Vietnamese government.

The President has stated in the past that the United States is in South Vietnam by request.

If the South Vietnamese take up the welcome mat and request the departure of U.S. troops, the only choice is to leave—sadder, and hopefully, much wiser.

That would then leave the door open for an all-out Communist push that so far has been held in check by respect for the military might of the United States.

The South Vietnamese don't want this so we probably will see a new government campaign that loosely translated means: cool it.

Ike At 77

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will be 77 Oct. 14 and has just been given an "A-OK" health report after an overnight hospital stay for a checkup.

Any man who serves two terms at the helm of his country is going to receive criticism from many quarters but Ike enjoyed and still enjoys a high level of popularity.

He won fame as a soldier and a statesman for peace around the world. He was voted "the most outstanding personality in . . . 1950-59 anywhere in the world" in a Gallup poll of 11 free nations.

Ike has served his country and the world well in war and peace. We join appreciative peoples around the world in wishing him well in the autumn of his life.

Rough Road To Reality

A real treat for the shock absorbers — of humans and autos — is the new blacktop surface on the downtown's main thoroughfares.

A number of other streets given the lowcost summer resurfacing also provide more comfortable riding, are cleaner and improve neighborhood appearances.

But the motorist who glides dreamily on, hypnotized by the cushioned motion of his car, is brought back onto the rough road to reality by a trip on lower St. Clair Ave.

Here is an obsolete bottleneck between the downtown and the modern three-lane section which has to be given a priority rating in any development plans.

Maybe after another winter it could be classified a "disaster area" and qualify for federal aid?

Maybe the National Aeronautical Space Administration will put down a concrete layer for use as a spaceship landing chute?

Maybe the International Asphaltic Association could be persuaded to use it as a testing roadway?

Maybe the city administration could begin to consider means of financing a St. Clair improvement project which is becoming more and more of a critical need in this community.

The reality along this road shows the traffic hazards and congestion which make for inconvenience, expense, delay and a depressing atmosphere of stagnancy this city cannot afford.

Clement Attlee

President Johnson has conveyed the condolences of the American people to Great Britain at the death of Clement Attlee, one of England's most outstanding statesmen.

Mr. Attlee was respected by Americans as a fighter for democracy and as a humanitarian. He became well known to Americans while serving as Winston Churchill's deputy prime minister in a wartime coalition cabinet.

Later, after he led the Labor party to landslide election victory, he instigated a program of national health service and nationalization of several industries.

Though some have questioned Mr. Attlee's policies, he did provide strong leadership to a war-torn country when it was vitally needed. He earned his spot in history.

No Victories In The Polls

Polling is the big thing in politics. It has been the big thing since the Literary Digest poll showed Herbert Hoover beating Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932 and again in 1936.

The fault in the Literary Digest poll, it later was pointed out, was the composition of the pollees. Their names had been taken out of telephone books. They were not a cross-section of the electorate. Thirty-five years ago, telephones were still a sign of affluency.

Today, polls are scientifically balanced. Either they are taken among representative citizens, or they are taken among people with special competency.

An example of the latter is an Associated Press poll of Republican leaders throughout the country—state chairmen and members of the National Committee.

These insiders favor Richard M. Nixon for the party nomination—46 per cent, against a combined total of 47 per cent for the party's three Rs—Romney, Rockefeller and Reagan.

The same pollees think Nixon has the best chance of defeating President Johnson. But by some quirk, the pollees think Rockefeller and Reagan would make the strongest combination —40 per cent for them, only 25 per cent for Nixon and Reagan.

Editorialists and other soothsayers will study these political entrails for omens. It is always a preoccupation of the political cognoscenti when election year approaches to know what all the pollsters think they have discovered. It gives substance to guesswork.

But fascinating as this tea-leaf reading can be, it lacks one thing—political reality.

A little less than 13 months from now, millions of us will go to the polls to choose a president of the United States. That will be the moment of truth.

What happens when we face it is only remotely related to what is discovered in the what-if exercise of poll-taking.

Polls help us make up our minds and have been looked at askance for that reason. But until we do make up our minds, nothing counts.

We are in for a solid year of intensive polling and reports of polling.

We shall find out everything we want to know except the one thing that matters—the victor in November 1968.

Purely Personal Observations

I am not sure everybody knows that Cambridge, where Prince Charles is going to school, was named for a place on the Cam River where there was a bridge, or that Oxford, was named for the place on the Cherwell River where oxen forded the stream.

Apropos of a rhubarb in the courts over whether marijuana should be regarded in law the same as opium, it is interesting to remember that coffee, cocolate and tobacco once were regarded as one time as dangerous and tobacco still is.

As far as I am concerned, grass can grow from now on with no opposition from me. I have installed the snow-thrower on the tractor and looking forward to its use. Latest time I used it was two years ago when snow drifts in our RFD lane were armpit high on a six-foot Indian.

One reason I liked Winston Churchill was his arrogance. He once said of Clement Attlee, the mild politician who represented everything Churchill despised: "He is a modest man with a great deal to be modest about."

Medicaid in the United States has disclosed what socialized medicine made tragically clear in Britain, that millions of Americans skip dental care and routine physical care because they lack the wherewithal. To accuse them of taking unfair advantage of public funds is to ignore this unpleasant reality.

Nothing has altered a basic rule of political survival that I first heard in my '20s: Talk in favor of less taxation but vote in favor of more spending. This is why the United States today is spending itself into bankruptcy.

I wonder when Halloween comes about the trick-or-treat routine, unheard of in the town where I lived as a child. We concentrated on tricks. There was no way to escape. We zeroed in on people we didn't like. We let the good guys and their places strictly alone.

As associate who worries about a great many things wonders what would happen if a western bad man had to shoot out all the fluorescent tubes in a modern saloon. He would have to reload.

The New York City slaying of a hippie girl and a young man under sordid circumstances shows what ultimately goes wrong with all behavior fads that expose innocent people to bums. Ergo: The bums do what comes naturally.

VICTOR RIESEL

Labor Union's False Front

NEW YORK: — The time has come for all good men to come to the aid of the party by advising the high officials they've elected — mayors, congressmen, state and local prosecutors — to cease associating with old associates of underworld characters.

Victor Riesel

This is the time for the men the people choose to choose more carefully the types to whom they give respectable coloration.

There is a grim case in point. An old associate of Johnny (Dio) Dioguardi, the acidy Cosa Nostra convicted extortionist, has just been indicted on charges of embezzling $1,800 from his very own "union." The man indicted, on evidence dug up by the U.S. Justice Dept.'s Organized Crime and Racketeering Section, is one Louis Lasky, president of something called the National Organization of Industrial Trade Unions (NOITU).

This is merely the beginning. There are continuing federal investigations into his do-it-yourself unionism which he operates across several state lines reaching from the Borough of Queens here, into New Jersey, down past Pennsylvania and more recently into Florida.

Since where the Justice Dept. goes, I goeth in swift pursuit, this column also dug into the past of Johnny Dio's old friend. Especially so since Dio soon will come to trial on bankruptcy fraud charges.

It develops that Mr. Lasky ran this NOITU as a reasonable facsimile of a union. He even held a convention just about a year ago. And there were testimonial dinners and other ribbon-cutting events. To the convention and the dinners came local and state prosecutors, members of the Congress and even a mayor from across the Hudson.

THEY CAME THOUGH Lasky's unions were being investigated by the FBI, and the Labor Dept.'s Compliance Division.

They came and lauded this man though it was no classified secret that he had been indicted not too long ago on charges of embezzlement by listing phantom employes on the union payroll. This indictment was washed out because two federal witnesses disappeared.

They came though they should have known that the Lasky unions were the offsprings of something called the National Independent Union Council (NIUC) eastern region which once had on its organizing staff Al Dugan, convicted bank robber and narcotics peddler. Dugan so harassed and frightened a company president that the executive shot and killed him.

They came though the NOITU was outside the pale of the labor movement and raided the territories of the established unions — often by clothing itself in names which sounded like the regular labor organizations.

Not only did they come but some of them pleaded for Lasky's support — right out in public, during the last election campaign.

They came though they, as dignitaries, were associated with political figures who today are being talked of as aspirants for the country's highest offices.

The latest Lasky-NOITU convention was opened by the president of the Borough of Queens. The "union" officers were inducted by a local congressman. What is most disillusioning is a featured speech there by the then Queens District Attorney, Nat H. Hentel, who was running (unsuccessfully) for reelection. He's the chap who arrested the members of organized crime's "high commission," including Carlos Marcello, as they dined at a Queens restaurant, which immediately became the most popular spot in town.

HENTEL SHOULD HAVE known better. But since the others may not have been so sophisticated, and since this column does not believe in guilt by association, there is no point in listing all the state officials who paid tribute to this "union" leader.

Someone asked them to attend a convention. They came. They spoke. They ran to another platform, another dais. So it is with judges and other congressmen across the land. It is so because Lasky's type of "independent" unionism now flourishes from coast to coast.

What type of unionism? Well, the Justice Dept. is peering into Lasky's practice, for example, of "convincing" employers to insure themselves with the union's operation called "The Industry-Labor Health and Welfare Fund." Mind you, some 100 company executives paid the NOITU an average of $18 a month each. In turn the NOITU sent $10.60 to the fund, keeping more than $7 in the union's general treasury or for other projects. Jobless members also were charged $18, and so were pensioners.

There were other operations. There are other rough elements. They are on the fringe of this kind of movement which unionizes small shops anywhere there's a soft underbelly.

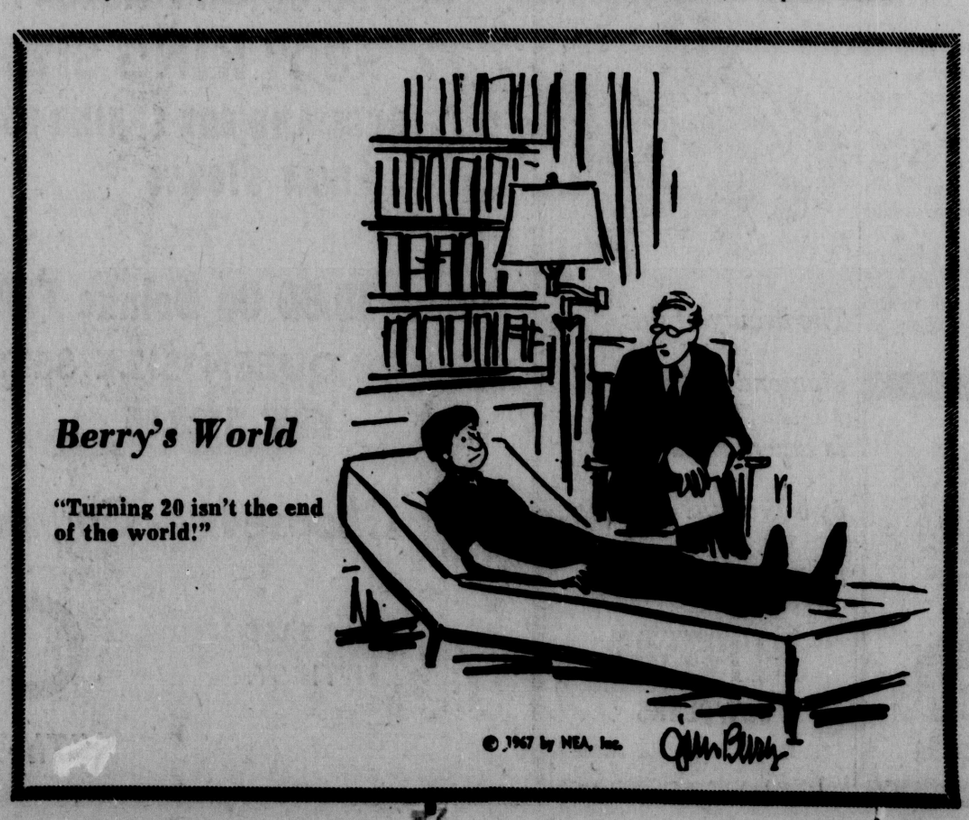

But that's in the hands of Justice Dept. agents. As for we, the people, we do have the right to expect the local and state law enforcers and national lawmakers not to lend their prestige to those indicted on charges of smashing those laws.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Deadlock

An unprecedented situation in American history has developed between the President and Congress.

It emphasizes a significant weakness in the existing system of government. Despite the fact that the President's own party has a big majority in both the Senate and the House, the executive has been unable to obtain by vote of the national legislative body the funds he deems necessary for the welfare of the country.

Congress, on the other hand, feels the President is spending more and asking for more than the country can afford.

This is what political scientists would call a "irresponsible" system. Under the procedures available to parliaments in other countries, the issue could be carried to the people immediately and an election held to resolve the differences. There would then either be a new president or a new Congress.

THE CRISIS — AND the President so terms it — has arisen over the administration's request for a surcharge tax of 10 per cent, sought as a means of curbing the present inflationary trend.

Congress, through its spokesmen, has asked for cuts in proposed programs of spending so as to reduce substantially the deficit for the current fiscal year, which will run to $29 billion. This, it is conceded, could affect interest and mortgage rates as well as prices all along the line.

Meanwhile, the President has ordered that until further notice no contracts be concluded by the federal government covering construction, equipment and services, except in a few instances.

This adds to the confusion, because it involves a possible turnover of many billions of dollars in the national economy.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the all-powerful House Ways and Means Committee, explains the problem:

"What is required is a clear-cut acknowledgment by all of us who participate in federal policy making that our objective is establishing firm control over the course of fiscal developments, that is, over the amount and character of federal spending in the future. For this purpose, spending cuts this year are not the basic ingredient, welcome as they will be. What is essential, rather, is change in spending programs. We have to focus sharply on what the government is to do as well as on how much it is to spend.

"To establish this kind of control requires first and foremost the active cooperation and participation of the administration. The first step must be the administration's formulation of recommendations for basic changes in federal programs. Only the administration is in a position to undertake this chore efficiently and expeditiously. The congress's job then would be to evaluate and to act upon these recommendations, modifying them where this is deemed to be desirable and feasible."

BUT THERE is a better way, and the British and Canadians have it. The chief executive and his cabinet are chosen from the members of the national legislature, and the majority party is responsible for the acts of the prime minister and cabinet as well as of the parliament.

The people can at an election vote out of office the head of the government and his cabinet and put another party into control, or they can affirm the incumbent party's acts by a "vote of confidence."

Apparently, neither party in Congress today has worked out a program for which it can be held responsible at the polls.

Each side is guessing what is "popular" and what the people's reaction will be in November 1968 if prices have skyrocketed and the purchasing power of the dollar has been further curtailed.

Fiscal mismanagement in government is an old story, but the American people do not as yet have available a referendum — a direct means of expressing themselves about in except at the end of a two-year or a four-year period during which serious economic crises can do irreparable harm.

So the issue still is responsible financing and responsible government in both congress and the presidency.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Sheriff's raids on suspected gambling resorts in Columbiana County resulted in the arrest of one man and the confiscation of two slot machines.

Robert Kidd was installed as master councilor of Harding chapter Order of DeMolay, at a ceremony in the Masonic Temple on Broadway.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The band room at Memorial Auditorium was completed at a cost of $3,300.

Residents of Knox Township in Lisbon prepared to form a group of "vigilantes" to protect property after the county said it could not help township officials, financially unable to appoint a constable.

TEN YEARS AGO — Patrolman Mike Winters Jr. was certified by the Civil Service Commission for the third post of lieutenant in the police force here.

Mrs. Robert Dietz was presented a life membership by the United Lutheran Church Women during the sessions of the West Conference of the Pittsburgh Synod.

Yankee Go Home Movement

Adding to the Vietnam confusion is the emergency of a new anti-American movement with much of the fuel coming from the military government.

Criticism is coming from the South Vietnam government, anti-government forces and newspapers.

The United States has been accused of interfering in South Vietnam's internal affairs and seeking to force the South Vietnamese into an unsatisfactory peace pact with the Communists.

U.S. officials attribute the movement to a growing sense of confidence among the South Vietnamese. The feeling is growing that U.S. participation in the war is no longer as necessary as in 1965.

There is, of course, the traditional friction generated by the presence of foreign troops in a country although the troops are allies.

It is somewhat surprising to many Americans in Vietnam that much of the anti-Americanism is coming from the government that owes its present strong position to the United States.

With anti-Americanism on the rise, it is beginning to look like the American effort in Vietnam is going to turn out like so many other cases where the United States has played Big Brother.

Other countries have developed to perfection the ability to get what they want from the United States, then turn their backs on heir friend until the next crisis comes along.

There is a big difference in the case of Vietnam, however. The United States isn't sending just money and goods to the Southeast Asian country, it is sending American men — and many of them aren't coming back.

The game the South Vietnamese are playing could turn out to be quite dangerous.

So far President Johnson has risked the ire of anti-war factions in the United States and has ignored disfavor in much of the world community to remain true to what he feels is the American commitment to South Vietnam.

But he cannot shrug off the position of the South Vietnamese government.

The President has stated in the past that the United States is in South Vietnam by request.

If the South Vietnamese take up the welcome mat and request the departure of U.S. troops, the only choice is to leave—sadder, and hopefully, much wiser.

That would then leave the door open for an all-out Communist push that so far has been held in check by respect for the military might of the United States.

The South Vietnamese don't want this so we probably will see a new government campaign that loosely translated means: cool it.

Ike At 77

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will be 77 Oct. 14 and has just been given an "A-OK" health report after an overnight hospital stay for a checkup.

Any man who serves two terms at the helm of his country is going to receive criticism from many quarters but Ike enjoyed and still enjoys a high level of popularity.

He won fame as a soldier and a statesman for peace around the world. He was voted "the most outstanding personality in . . . 1950-59 anywhere in the world" in a Gallup poll of 11 free nations.

Ike has served his country and the world well in war and peace. We join appreciative peoples around the world in wishing him well in the autumn of his life.

Rough Road To Reality

A real treat for the shock absorbers — of humans and autos — is the new blacktop surface on the downtown's main thoroughfares.

A number of other streets given the lowcost summer resurfacing also provide more comfortable riding, are cleaner and improve neighborhood appearances.

But the motorist who glides dreamily on, hypnotized by the cushioned motion of his car, is brought back onto the rough road to reality by a trip on lower St. Clair Ave.

Here is an obsolete bottleneck between the downtown and the modern three-lane section which has to be given a priority rating in any development plans.

Maybe after another winter it could be classified a "disaster area" and qualify for federal aid?

Maybe the National Aeronautical Space Administration will put down a concrete layer for use as a spaceship landing chute?

Maybe the International Asphaltic Association could be persuaded to use it as a testing roadway?

Maybe the city administration could begin to consider means of financing a St. Clair improvement project which is becoming more and more of a critical need in this community.

The reality along this road shows the traffic hazards and congestion which make for inconvenience, expense, delay and a depressing atmosphere of stagnancy this city cannot afford.

Clement Attlee

President Johnson has conveyed the condolences of the American people to Great Britain at the death of Clement Attlee, one of England's most outstanding statesmen.

Mr. Attlee was respected by Americans as a fighter for democracy and as a humanitarian. He became well known to Americans while serving as Winston Churchill's deputy prime minister in a wartime coalition cabinet.

Later, after he led the Labor party to landslide election victory, he instigated a program of national health service and nationalization of several industries.

Though some have questioned Mr. Attlee's policies, he did provide strong leadership to a war-torn country when it was vitally needed. He earned his spot in history.

No Victories In The Polls

Polling is the big thing in politics. It has been the big thing since the Literary Digest poll showed Herbert Hoover beating Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932 and again in 1936.

The fault in the Literary Digest poll, it later was pointed out, was the composition of the pollees. Their names had been taken out of telephone books. They were not a cross-section of the electorate. Thirty-five years ago, telephones were still a sign of affluency.

Today, polls are scientifically balanced. Either they are taken among representative citizens, or they are taken among people with special competency.

An example of the latter is an Associated Press poll of Republican leaders throughout the country—state chairmen and members of the National Committee.

These insiders favor Richard M. Nixon for the party nomination—46 per cent, against a combined total of 47 per cent for the party's three Rs—Romney, Rockefeller and Reagan.

The same pollees think Nixon has the best chance of defeating President Johnson. But by some quirk, the pollees think Rockefeller and Reagan would make the strongest combination —40 per cent for them, only 25 per cent for Nixon and Reagan.

Editorialists and other soothsayers will study these political entrails for omens. It is always a preoccupation of the political cognoscenti when election year approaches to know what all the pollsters think they have discovered. It gives substance to guesswork.

But fascinating as this tea-leaf reading can be, it lacks one thing—political reality.

A little less than 13 months from now, millions of us will go to the polls to choose a president of the United States. That will be the moment of truth.

What happens when we face it is only remotely related to what is discovered in the what-if exercise of poll-taking.

Polls help us make up our minds and have been looked at askance for that reason. But until we do make up our minds, nothing counts.

We are in for a solid year of intensive polling and reports of polling.

We shall find out everything we want to know except the one thing that matters—the victor in November 1968.

Blacktop Job To End Today

The Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry, contractor, expects to complete work today—if weather permits—on a blacktop resurfacing project in downtown East Liverpool on which it has been working since Oct. 2.

A crew completed work early yesterday evening on repaving of Washington St. between E. 4th and E. 6th Sts. and turned today to similar work on Market St. from 3rd St. to 6th St. and Jackson St. between W. 5th and W. 6th St.

Meanwhile, another crew is applying a new surface on the metered parking lot alongside City Hall and another at the northwest corner of 3rd and Market Sts. The work was completed partially yesterday on the third parking lot — on W. 6th St. directly opposite City Hall.

A part of the project on the lot opposite City Hall, a new high-intensity street light will be installed and a guardrail will be set in place to divide the lot from an adjacent building to the east.

Tri-State launched the work 10 days ago, first resurfacing E. and W. 6th and 5th Sts. and parts of Jefferson St. and Broadway under an Ohio Highway Department contract. The work on the sections of Washington, Market and Jackson Sts. and the three parking lots is covered by a separate contract awarded by the city.

In connection with the resurfacing, the company also will apply blacktop in Crook Alley near E. 5th St., covering a spot where a recent excavation was made, and in part of Potters Alley between Washington St. and Broadway.

lost because the enrollment was down 21 students this year, thereby costing part of a unit.

State officials informed Lowe that 75 per cent of the $133,500 should be directed to teacher salaries and retirement, with the balance to be used for non-teaching personnel, transportation and special education and vocational courses.

Even with the additional foundation funds, the Wellsville school system will not have sufficient to exempt the proposed 5-mill levy from the fall ballot, Lowe said.

"The funds won't be nearly enough to restore the cutbacks," Lowe added.

Truckers

first two hours for waiting for trucks to be loaded or unloaded.

The truckers, who own their own trucks and contract independently with the trucking companies, had asked for a 6 per cent increase over the 73 per cent they get now of the hauling fees paid to the companies, and they had asked for $15 an hour for waiting time beyond the first two hours.

Although the recommendation falls short of including a third top demand—a new contract with the Teamsters—it includes grievance procedures and joint Teamster-trucker talks on mutual problems, which a spokesman for the truckers called a "very important consideration."

"We're very satisfied with this agreement," said William Kusley, a Gary, Ind., trucker who organized the wildcat walkout. "We got almost everything we wanted."

Kusley said he would recommend that striking owner-operators ratify the proposal and added: "We can have the trucks rolling in a few days."

He said the strikers would start meeting immediately, but gave no idea when the final vote would be in.

Hart, who headed the talks called by Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, took a more solemn view on when the trucks would return to the highways.

'I would be indulging in wishful thinking if I said the trucks would roll soon,' he said. "The carriers and the Steel Haulers Protest Committee (the strikers) must act."

Kusley said the recommendations were a marked improvement over a pact formulated 10 days ago and overwhelmingly rejected by the drivers.

The strike by 10,000 to 20,000 truckers virtually stopped highway shipment of steel and disrupted the shipment of goods ranging from bread to bricks. Drivers were beaten, their rigs shot at, stoned and the tires slashed. One trucker was killed when a rock crashed through his windshield near Flint, Mich.

Hart said the committee found that the strikers "had a deep sense of responsibility," and that it could not connect them with the violence that has marked the walkout. "We want to erase any stigma that may be attached to them," he said.

As the strike slowly squeezed off steel shipments, many steelmakers turned to rail. Some cut back production and laid off workers. More than 50 per cent of the nation's steel is hauled by truck.

The mediation team, composed of governors' representatives from Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, New York, New Jersey, Maryland and Michigan, recommended.

—Carriers immediately start charging for the detention of vehicles with the money going to the owner-operators.

—Carriers immediately ask the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to charge $10 per hour to the owner-operator after two hours free waiting time for loading and unloading.

—Carriers apply for a 5 per cent increase in tariffs, which go into effect in November and December, with the increase passed on to the owner-operators.

—Carriers consider the possibility for asking for an increase in tariffs.

—Litigation started by the Teamsters or the employers be dropped, and that there will be no reprisals against the owner-operators.

vision of Milk Marketing," Shafer said.

The milk bureau would be authorized to fix minimum producer prices — the prices dealers pay farmers for raw milk—using these factors as a guide:

Production costs, the availability of milk supplies, consumer demand and the supply and price of milk in adjoining states.

Shafer proposed a major change in the method for fixing consumer prices by pegging these prices to "true minimum costs" for production, packaging, processing and distribution of milk by efficient dealers.

Shafer recommended the nine-member committee to advise the Secretary of Agriculture "for the purpose of guaranteeing a fair price to dairy farmers and assuring a fair price to the consumer."

The governor also recommended the state's 30-year-old Milk Control Act be repealed and replaced with a new law designed to lower minimum consumer prices.

Shafer outlined what he said was "a reasonable solution—a middle path—to a problem which demands action now if the Commonwealth is to retain some orderly system of milk marketing."

Youth Bound Over In Theft Of Telephone

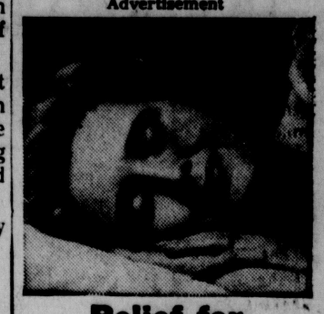

David Cunningham, 19, of E. 2nd St. was bound over to the grand jury today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff after pleading not guilty and waiving a preliminary hearing on charges of theft of a pay telephone and malicious destruction of property on Oct. 1 at the Patterson-Wetzel Laundromat on St. Clair Ave. near Grant St.

Cunningham is named in affidavits signed by Lt. Paul A. Burson Jr. and Patrolman Leonard Richard accusing him of theft of the telephone valued at $144 and destruction of property valued at $125. He was represented by J. Michael Kapp. Cunningham's bonds of $1,000 on each case were continued.

The judge granted a continuance until Oct. 18 in arraignment of Rodney Eugene Gilkinson of Cannons Mills, charged with the same offense in the same case. Gilkinson is represented by G. William Brokaw. He was returned to jail in default of bond.

in congressional demands for spending cuts of $5 billion.

James S. Duesenberry, a member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said the expansion has not only been long but also rapid. Since early 1961, he said, the nation's output of goods and services—gross national product—has grown by $182 million when adjusted for price increases, a rise of nearly 38 per cent or more than 5 per cent yearly.

The Commerce Department is expected to report within the next several days a further increase during the year's third quarter approaching an annual rate of $790 billion.

Government figures also show that Americans as individuals have more money now than they did in 1961 and can fill a larger market basket with it despite inflation.

Income after taxes totaled $1,983 for every man, woman and child in the nation in 1961 and reached $2,716 for each of the nearly 200 million Americans between April and June of this year. Even figuring in inflation, there was still a $481 advance.

Road Bill Given House Approval In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG (AP) — Legislation the Highways Department says would enable it to speed up road construction and cut down costs passed the House Tuesday and went to the Senate.

The House vote was 115-77.

Robert G. Bartlett, secretary of highways hailed the action as a boon to long-range planning and the six-year program of the Highways Commission.

The bill would authorize the department to begin securing right-of-ways for a project immediately after a route determination, rather than await a final design.

A department spokesman said the measure would be a money saver. He noted that in many instances, speculators learning where a proposed highway is to be built, hike the land costs in the area.

"This a long step in the right direction that will provide the last needed support to give Pennsylvania a total six-year road building program," Bartlett said in a statement.

Opponents of the legislation in the House argued the bill would give the department authority to purchase land it actually did not need.

Rep. Edward W. McNally, D-Cambria, a co-sponsor of the bill, sought to assure the House that the Highways Department was not "going into the real estate business."

In 1900, 194 persons out of every 10,000 in the United States died of tuberculosis. Today, the rate is about six per 10,000 population.

Vietnamese civilians and wounded 53.

Just 30 miles east of Saigon troops of the U.S. 9th Division continued to bring up mounds of weapons from a five-level guerrilla tunnel complex beneath the jungle in Phuoc Tuy Province. Officers said 675 weapons, 20,000 rounds of ammunition and stacks of medical and other supplies have been found.

Only in the skies of North Vietnam did the war flag. Heavy clouds and rains kept American planes completely out of the Hanoi-Haiphong area and limited strikes elsewhere to the lowest number in a month.

The big U.S. B52 bombers made two more raids on suspected infiltration routes in the western part of the northern battle zone today, bringing their total to six raids in three days with about 900,000 pounds of bombs dropped.

Just below the threatened northern area, U.S. Army troops operating in Quang Tin and Quang Ngai provinces reported killing 59 Communist soldiers Tuesday.

It was in one of these fights that the suicide squad of 11 North Vietnamese regulars charged into an artillery camp of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division after a 20-minute mortar barrage.

Spraying the camp with submachine guns, the Communists killed seven of the Americans. But none of the Reds escaped. U.S. soldiers cut down nine of them and captured the other two.

Half a dozen harassing attacks were reported in the Mekong Delta south of Saigon, the worst against the village of Cai Be a subdistrict headquarters. Red mortars killed four civilians and wounded 53 there in addition to causing widespread damage.

On the coastal plains of Binh Dinh Province about 250 miles above Saigon, American warplanes practically wiped out a platoon of guerrillas. They were hit hard late Tuesday and this morning a ground sweep found 37 enemy bodies and 34 shattered weapon on the field.

Heavy weather over North Vietnam limited American pilots to 93 missions Tuesday, about half of them were Marine and Air Force strikes in the area immediately above the demilitarizedzone.

The deepest mission of the day was against a SAM missile site west of Hanol. The U.S. carrier fleet in the Tonkin Gulf managed to launch only seven strikes during the period, and most of those were radar-guided missions by all-weather Intruder jets.

Results reported were limited to such items as 10 supply barges strafed southeast of Dong Hoi and nine trucks attacked about 35 miles below Haiphong.

While ships and planes continued their search, two vessels sped toward port with the survivors and some of the dead.

The Japanese freighter, Igaharu Maru, headed toward Yokohama, Japan, after rescuing Gordon L. Campbell, Oakland, Calif., and Lewis E. Gray Jr., Houston, Tex. The Maru also reported she had picked up "some bodies." The number was not known.

The Visund, a Norwegian ship, steamed toward San Pedro Calif., after picking up John Kirk, Modesto, Calif.; Oscar Wiley, Oakland, Calif., and Edwin D. Johnson of Marine City, Mich. It also recovered four bodies.

Eight other dead were found by the Russian ship Orekhov, which remained on the scene. With her were the Pan American Steel Seafarer and the Keisho Maru of Japan. The Coast Guard cutters Storis and Dexter were en route.

Three of the dead were unidentified. The others were listed as Neil J. Leary, San Francisco; Czeslaw Kwiatkowski, Detroit, Mich.; James Bechtold, East Weymouth, Mass.; Antonio Apolito, Huntington Station, N.Y.; Henry Limbrough, Birmingham, Ala.; Lester Corum, Fresno, Calif.; Joseph Blasio, Pinola, Calif.; Clement Daniels, London, England; and Raymond Eden of Spanish Honduras.

Numerous bodies were reported seen floating among the debris by a Navy search plane Tuesday, increasing concern for the fate of the men who were forced to leap from their rapidly running ship.

Vietnamese civilians and wounded 53.

Just 30 miles east of Saigon troops of the U.S. 9th Division continued to bring up mounds of weapons from a five-level guerrilla tunnel complex beneath the jungle in Phuoc Tuy Province. Officers said 675 weapons, 20,000 rounds of ammunition and stacks of medical and other supplies have been found.

Only in the skies of North Vietnam did the war flag. Heavy clouds and rains kept American planes completely out of the Hanoi-Haiphong area and limited strikes elsewhere to the lowest number in a month.

The big U.S. B52 bombers made two more raids on suspected infiltration routes in the western part of the northern battle zone today, bringing their total to six raids in three days with about 900,000 pounds of bombs dropped.

Just below the threatened northern area, U.S. Army troops operating in Quang Tin and Quang Ngai provinces reported killing 59 Communist soldiers Tuesday.

It was in one of these fights that the suicide squad of 11 North Vietnamese regulars charged into an artillery camp of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division after a 20-minute mortar barrage.

Spraying the camp with submachine guns, the Communists killed seven of the Americans. But none of the Reds escaped. U.S. soldiers cut down nine of them and captured the other two.

Half a dozen harassing attacks were reported in the Mekong Delta south of Saigon, the worst against the village of Cai Be a subdistrict headquarters. Red mortars killed four civilians and wounded 53 there in addition to causing widespread damage.

On the coastal plains of Binh Dinh Province about 250 miles above Saigon, American warplanes practically wiped out a platoon of guerrillas. They were hit hard late Tuesday and this morning a ground sweep found 37 enemy bodies and 34 shattered weapon on the field.

Heavy weather over North Vietnam limited American pilots to 93 missions Tuesday, about half of them were Marine and Air Force strikes in the area immediately above the demilitarizedzone.

The deepest mission of the day was against a SAM missile site west of Hanol. The U.S. carrier fleet in the Tonkin Gulf managed to launch only seven strikes during the period, and most of those were radar-guided missions by all-weather Intruder jets.

Results reported were limited to such items as 10 supply barges strafed southeast of Dong Hoi and nine trucks attacked about 35 miles below Haiphong.

Vatican Synod Slated To Air Topics Kept Off Last Agenda

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Some of the controversial topics which Vatican conservatives kept off the agenda of the Roman Catholic synod of bishops will be aired in the church's third World Congress of the Lay Apostolate opening today.

Nearly 2,500 laymen from 103 nations have assembled in Rome for the congress, their first such meeting since the ecumenical council ended two years ago. Many of them are anxious to speak on practical ways to carry out the reforms advocated by the council majority.

Among subjects to be discussed is the church's policy on birth control, one of the most controversial topics facing Catholics today. Its omission from the agenda of the bishops' synod, now holding its first meeting at the Vatican, is considered evidence of the continuing and frequently successful campaign by Vatican conservatives to put the brake on liberal reforms urged by the majority at the ecumenical council.

Pope Paul, who for months has been pondering whether to modify the church's ban on contraception by pills and mechanical devices, has asked the bishops of the synod to let him have their written opinions on the issue. This is expected to forestall any discussion of birth control policy in the synod.

The week-long congress of laymen, titled "God's People on Man's Journey," will provide a forum for such prominent Catholics as U.S. astronaut James McDivitt and British economist Barbara Ward.

One hundred observer-consultants from Protestant, Anglican and Orthodox churches will participate and will preside during some of the eight "workshops" in which the delegates will debate in smaller groups.

A major step in ecumenical relations, this is the first time that non-Catholics will speak at an international congress of Catholic laymen. The observers will have no vote, however.

The congress is divided into two parts: "Man Today" and "The Laity in the Renewal of the Church."

Panel discussions by prominent laymen will alternate with smaller workshop groups.

Midland Group Hears Talks By Football Coaches

Coaches Joe Hamilton, Tom Hansen and Paul Barbuto were introduced and each spoke briefly when the Midland Mothers Athletic Association met in the high school forum.

Henry Kuzma, high school principal, also spoke.

Vic Martinetti, athletic director, reminded the group of Parents Night Oct. 27 when Midland plays New Brighton. The parent. of the football team and the cheerleaders will be introduced.

Mrs. Norman VanLear presided in the absence of Mrs. Grover Epley, president.

Mrs. Anthony Cerasi reported on membership and Mrs. John Brozic on a recent Tag Day.

Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Ann Prodonovich.

The next meeting will be Nov. 2 at the high school.

Sheriff Chains Courthouse Door

CARROLLTON, Ill. (AP) — Green County Sheriff Donald Vinyard has taken to chaining the courthouse doors at night after finding the building "wide open" several mornings.

But other county officials don't like being locked out. So they got the Green County Board of Supervisors to get the states' attorney to get the sheriff to remove the chains.

But Vinyard said no—he is responsible for the property at the courthouse and the chains stay on until he is proven legally wrong.

Vinyard added this: "If it's too much trouble for anyone to get the key at the jail, then he doesn't have any business at the courthouse."

'Soldier' Bilks War Widow, 20, Of $1,579 Savings

GASTONIA, N.C. (AP) — The 20-year-old widow of a Vietnam war casualty is broke because she trusted a man in uniform.

Mrs. Lucy McCorkle had been receiving monthly checks from the Army since her husband was killed. She saved $1,579.

She said a man dressed in a soldier's uniform came to see her last Saturday. He told her that she had been receiving the checks by mistake—that they should have gone to another Mrs. McCorkle in Greensboro whose husband had been killed a month earlier.

Mrs. McCorkle went to the bank, withdrew the $1,579 and gave it to the man. She quoted him as saying he would be back with her money once he straightened things out at the Pentagon.

He didn't return. Army officials, contacted by the Gaston County police, said they don't know who the man was and that there is not a widowed Mrs. McCorkle in Greensboro.

City Truck Damaged When Struck By Car

A city incinerator department truck was damaged slightly Tuesday at Broadway and E. 6th St. when struck by an auto, police reported.

The 1962 model garbage truck was halted in a line of traffic at a red light when bumped by a 1963 sedan operated by Robert Angus, 16, of 8th Ave., LaCroft, officers said. A mud guard of the truck was dented. Angus told police he was turning from Broadway onto E. 6th St. when his car skidded on an oil spot on the pavement and hit the truck.

Meanwhile, Elmer Schell of 937 Dresden Ave. told officers the front of his 1965 model four-door sedan was damaged extensively when struck by a hit-skip car at 10:59 p. m. Tuesday while parked at his home. He gave police the license number of the offending car.

There are 15.5 million trucks in the United States, according to estimates.

Project Cleared By Zoning Board

The Board of Zoning Appeals, meeting Tuesday night at City Hall, granted a variance from new zoning regulations to allow a woman to construct a one-car garage on her property.

Robin Gillespie of 1612 Lisbon St. filed the request for the variance from a regulation which says that "no accessory building shall be located in any front or side yard except under unusual circumstances."

J. Michael Kapp, chairman of the board, said the variance was granted under a section of the regulations that allows action in cases "where enforcement would result in extreme hardship."

The regulations allow accessory buildings such as garages to be built in a rear yard provided they are set back at least three feet from the side lot lines and six feet from the rear lot line.

Robin Gillespie of 1612 Lisbon St. filed the request for the variance from a regulation which says that "no accessory building shall be located in any front or side yard except under unusual circumstances."

J. Michael Kapp, chairman of the board, said the variance was granted under a section of the regulations that allows action in cases "where enforcement would result in extreme hardship."

The regulations allow accessory buildings such as garages to be built in a rear yard provided they are set back at least three feet from the side lot lines and six feet from the rear lot line.

Squire Lloyd Nalley of Newell Tuesday night fined Ohio and Pennsylvania motorists on charges filed by West Virginia state police.

Louis Morgan De'Angelo, 23, of 757 Virginia Ave., Midland, on Route 66 and charged with driving 70 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Last month I lived through the "back-to-school shopping" nightmare. As a salesperson who has seen 15 such seasons I have something to say to mothers who shop with teen-age daughters — whom they profess to love.

In a voice loud enough to be heard all over the store, I've heard mothers bellow:

"Take off the plaid jumper. You look like a cow." "That color is ghastly on you. You're too shallow to wear green or yellow."

"You shouldn't wear sleeveless blouses, dear. Your arms are too skinny."

"Your stomach sticks out in that pleated skirt. Why don't you go on a diet?"

"Take off that blouse. The neckline emphasizes your scrawny neck and your terrible posture."

Invariably they wind up the barrage of insulting remarks with something like this: "I'm your mother and I want you to look nice. Don't listen to the sales girl. All she cares about is making a sale."

One of these days I'm going to lose my cool and tell off a mother even if it means my job. I don't expect to see this letter in print because knocking American mothers is like stepping on the flag. — PWK.

Dear PWK: Here's your letter and I'm delighted to print it. And now, you teen-agers whose mothers have said to you on occasion, "Did you read Ann Landers today, dear?" — maybe it's your turn.

Doctor Shy

Dear Ann: I'm 20, married, pregnant and scared to death. Soon I must go to an obstetrician for a checkup. I'm already in my fourth month and have been putting it off because I'm so frightened of the examination.

How do I know what is expected of me? If the doctor says, "Take off all your clothes," does that mean I have to do it just because he says so? In this examination, how do I know if he is doing anything he is not supposed to do?

We're newcomers to the city and I have no family doctor here and no one to talk to about this. I hope you will not think I'm silly, because I do need your help. — PETRIFIED.

Dear Pet: If you have no friend who can recommend an obstetrician, call your county medical society, which is listed in the phone book. Go to a physician at once (you should have seen a doctor before now) and place your confidence in him.

The vast majority of physicians are lucky if they can get through the day without collapsing from exhaustion. They have neither the time, the energy, nor the desire to get out of bounds with patients.

It is not unusual to fear the unknown — and this is your problem. After one visit, you'll probably kick yourself for having had these baseless suspicions.

Self-Denial

Dear Ann: I'm writing about the letter from the woman who wanted to know whose responsibility it was to make a home for her mother.

When I was in high school, my mother died. Two months later my grandmother died and I had to help daddy make a home for grandpa. Dad worked the 4-to-12 shift and I had to come home every day after school to take care of grandpa.

I couldn't be in the orchestra, drama club or do the things that most kids consider the fun part of high school. But I never felt deprived because grandpa was a wonderful person and I loved him very much.

Please print this for all people who are too selfish to look ahead a few years. — MELINDA.

Dear Milenda: Your mature acceptance of heavy responsibility is remarkable for a teen-ager. Thanks for letting us meet you.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Thieves Loot Auto Of Tools

Charles Eastham of Ruth St., East End, told police Tuesday night thieves obtained a large quantity of tools after prying open the trunk of his auto while it was parked on Dewey Ave.

Eastham said the tools were owned by Dennis Cornman of 2135 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. The theft was timed between 5 and 7 p. m. Monday. Eastham said the loss included a quarter-inch electric drill, two socket wrench sets, two sets of drill bits and a large quantity of assorted tools.

Meanwhile, two youths were cited by officers Tuesday night for the alleged theft of a wallet at the home of James Potts of 417 College St.

Potts said the wallet containing a $2 bill, three credit cards and miscellaneous papers was taken from atop a television set at his home between 6:30 and 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

An attempted burglary also was investigated early today. Kenneth Delposen of 920 Avondale St., operator of Kenney's Auto Body Shop at 104 Rural Ln., said intruders tried unsuccessfully to force open a door of the shop between 9:30 p. m. Tuesday and 7:08 a. m. today.

Delposen said the intruders pried at a door, breaking a lock on the inside, but could not gain entry because of a padlock also securing the door. The door frame was damaged by a pry bar, he said.

Pupils In Klondyke Area Lose School Bus Service

Kondyke area residents learned Tuesday night that the city's school system no longer will be able to provide bus transportation for students unless they live a mile or more from school.

Carl Pelini, assistant superintendent, made the announcement during last night's meeting of the Klondyke-Neville Parent-Teacher Association.

Pelini explained that state law prohibits the transporting of students unless they meet the mile-or-more requirement.

When Klondyke School was closed and the children transferred to Neville, the Board of Education agreed to arrange for transportation of the smaller. This was done last year, with the parents paying the cost, and a similar program launched this term.

Pelini said the children may carry their lunches, providing they live more than a half-mile from the building, but added mothers must be in charge of the lunchroom.

Mrs. Ruth Dalrymple is lunchroom chairman.

The Rev. Paul George of the Boyce Methodist Church conducted devotions and Richard Hazlett led the flag salute. Ed Gray spoke on the United Fund and Fireman Don Hancock spoke on fire prevention and asked the PTA's support of the 1-mill fire levy renewal.

Tom Seevers, vice president, conducted business. The PTA voted to sponsor a Camp Fire Girl unit again this year. Mrs. Elizabeth Ross and Mrs. Kay Waters leaders, asked for volunteers to help form more groups.

A discussion was held on when to conduct meetings because the PTA was informed it will have to pay $3.55 an hour for a custodian, if needed, in the evening. Wilber Wolfe, principal, introduced teachers.

The attendance banner was won by the third grade taught by Mrs. Dorthea Pattison. The next meeting will be Nov. 14.

The next Block Club meeting will be Nov. 13 with Mrs. George Green.

Car Strikes Pole In Theft Attempt

A 1966 model convertible was damaged on the right front when it struck a pole on the used car lot of Arb Motor Sales at 1340 Pennsylvania Ave. during an unsuccessful theft attempt, the firm told police Tuesday afternoon.

Ronald Mowery, a salesman, told police he discovered the damaged car and then found paint which matched the car on a nearby pole. He said a thief apparently attempted to drive the car off the lot between 9 p. m. Monday and 10 a. m. Tuesday.

Meanwhile, a 1965 model four-door sedan which V. A. Wesolowski of 1039 Vine St. reported stolen from a lot on W. 5th St. Sept. 24 between 5 and 5:45 p.m. was found abandoned at Ben Avon, Pa., Tuesday by the police department there, local officers were advised. The Wesolowski car, which was damaged, was removed to a Ben Avon garage.

Rookie Waslewski Tries To Get Red Sox Even In Series

With the AP and UPI Ohio High School football polls continuing to show wide diversity, East Liverpool is ranked number 8 by UPI (coaches) compared with a tie for 14th by AP (writers).

The Potters support among the coaches almost doubled, from 33 points last week to 61 this week as they vaulted from 15th to 8th. Their points among the writers dropped from 19 to 14. Cleveland St. Joseph continues 9th according to UPI, while languishing in a 25th place tie according to AP. The writers tab Youngstown Ursuline in 10th, while the coaches rate them 21st. Dover is placed 7th by the writers, 22nd by the coaches. Warren Western Reserve, the Potters' opponent Saturday night, is 37th in UPI, not listed by AP. The big game this weekend, of course, is Steubenville Big Red, ranked 4th by AP and 2nd by UPI at Canton McKinley, No. 1 in both polls, Friday night. Massillon and Upper Arlington, the other two members of the top four, clash Oct. 20.

THE 329 YARDS gained passing by East Liverpool against Dayton Dunbar Friday night is apparently a school record. Earl Diddle's mark of 264 yards, however, is not a record, a check of the files showing that Clair Williams connected on 10 of 19 for 268 yards on Oct. 24, 1951, against Martins Ferry.

Diddle had 11 completions in 19 tries, so the number of completions may be a record, however.

GEORGE SLEIME, whose two long runs beat Oak Glen for Wheeling Central Friday, was honored as one of the Ohio Valley's two top backs of the week by the Wheeling Intelligencer. Don Young of Wintersville was the other.

THE PROS DON'T have the new punt rule of the colleges that prohibits interior linemen from going downfield until after the ball is kicked, but there still seems no reason why the Steelers can't have picked up more than a total of nine yards returning punts in four games.

THE PITT - NOTRE DAME freshmen football game has been shifted to Forbes Field at 8 p. m. Nov. 17, a Friday.

PITT AND OHIO U. battled to a 1-1 overtime tie in soccer over the weekend. This marked the first goal of the season in four games for the hapless Panthers, who are having their troubles in more than football.

BIG LEAGUE HOCKEY comes to Pittsburgh tonight at 8 when the Montreal Canadians appear at the Civic Arena to help the Penguins open the season. Pittsburgh posted the best exhibition record of the six expansion National Hockey League teams.

Cards Lead 3-2, Choose Hughes

BOSTON (AP) — Jim Lonborg had to wait until the finish of today's sixth World Series game to find out where he'd be sleeping tonight.

There was nothing uncertain however, about Gary Waslewski's day-before-the game plans.

Waslewski, a 26-year-old rookie, had a lot to do with Lonborg's sleeping plans as well as being the pitcher who stood between extinction for the Boston Red Sox.

Lonborg, due for the seventh game start against St. Louis, abandons his apartment to sleep in a downtown Boston hotel before an important game.

"I'm pretty sure I'll go back to my hotel. I can't afford not to," Lonbort said when asked about his Wednesday night plans if the Red Sox are able to even the series at three games each.

Lonborg started his pregame hotel visit the night before he pitched Boston's pennant-clinching game against Minnesota. He vacated his apartment for a hotel because he wanted to simulate conditions on the road where he has pitched better this year.

He beat the Twins, then threw a one-hitter against St. Louis after taking the hotel treatment last Wednesday night.

Waslewski, on the other hand, didn't have time for any gimmicks Tuesday. Besides thinking of his assignment against the Cardinals and another rookie hurler, 29-year-old Dick Hughes, the Red Sox right-hander had other chores.

"I have a lot of work to do," Waslewski said as he prepared to run through a light workout Tuesday. "I have to take my wife to the doctor's. She's expecting in three weeks. And we don't have any food in the house.

"We've been away since Thursday. I also have some movies I took of the World Series that I'd like to take in and have processed."

Everyone was processing information about Waslewski after Manager Dick Williams named him as the sixth-game starter.

Waslewski was declared eligible for the series only the day before it began. The Red Sox added him to the roster because Darrell Brandon pulled a muscle, Bill Landis was called by the Army and Sparky Lyle hurt his elbow.

"It's hard to believe," Waslewski said about the turn of events. "I've been in the big leagues only half a season, and here I'm starting a game."

Waslewski already has seen action in the Series. He came on in relief last Saturday and pitched three perfect innings.

Drafted from the Pittsburgh organization in 1965, Waslewski started this season at Toronto of the International League, was called up by the Red Sox June 6, sent back to Toronto Aug. 1 and brought up again Sept. 6.

He posted a 5-6 record in the minors and a 2-2 mark in the majors. He also picked up tendonitis, a bad back and a sore elbow to go with his heart murmur, a collapsed lung he had in 1964 and rheumatic fever he had as a child.

Dick Hughes, his opponent, has survived nine seasons and 12 teams in the minor leagues to get where he is.

A 16-game winner during the season, the bespectacled Hughes started the second game against Lonborg and didn't pitch too poorly. But there aren't too many pitchers who beat an opponent who throws a one-hitter.

"I didn't have my real good stuff last time," the right-hander said. "But I've had a lot of rest, and I think I have a better idea on the hitters than I did before."

If a seventh game is necessary, Schoendienst plans to send Bob Gibson against Lonborg. Each has won two games, Gibson the first and the fourth and Lonborg the second and fifth. Gibson will have had three days rest, Lonborg two.

"I don't care how much rest I'll have," Lonborg said. "I'll have all winter to rest."

At last he'll be able to do it in his apartment.

Expect To Name Hodges Manager Of Mets Today

BOSTON (AP) — Gil Hodges, one of baseball's most powerful sluggers with the old Brooklyn Dodgers, was expected to be named manager of the New York Mets today.

Hodges, manager of the Washington Senators since 1963, reportedly has been offered what Shirley Povich, sports editor of the Washington Post, termed "probably the richest managerial contract in all of baseball history."

New York manager Westrum resigned the last week of the season and the Mets asked the Senators for permission to talk with the former Dodger star this week.

Hodges has a year left in his Washington contract. He took over the Senators in May of 1963 and the club finished last that year, ninth in 1964 and eighth in 1965 and 1966. This year, however, the Senators surprised the American League by finishing in a tie for sixth place.

Hodges, 43, finished his playing career with the Mets after playing 15 years for the Dodgers in Brooklyn and Los Angeles. He had a career batting average of .273 and hit 370 home runs, knocking in more than 100 runs in seven straight seasons.

Montreal At Pittsburgh Opens Hockey Season

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The fledgling Pittsburgh Penguins open their National Hockey League season tonight against one of hte NHL's dominant teams for several years—the Montreal Canadiens.

The Penguins finished exhibition play with a sparkling 7-1-1 record but face a stern test against Montreal, which finished second to Toronto last season in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The Canadiens have won 18 regular season championships and 14 Stanley Cup Playoffs, and feature three of the NHL's outstanding players: Jean Beliveau, Henri Richard and Goalie Gump Worsley.

Pittsburgh, born with five other teams in the NHL's recent expansion, didn't play any of the league's six established clubs in preseason play.

"They're all in good condition and ready for the season," said coach Red Sullivan of his Penguins.

"They had a good training camp and a good exhibition season. Now it's up to them," he said.

Pittsburgh will have Hank Bassen, a steady player with the Calder Cup champion Pittsburgh Hornets, at goal, Leo Boivin as a defenseman and Andy Bathgate at right wing.

Keith McCreary, the club's No. 7 expansion choice, led Pittsburgh scorers in exhibition play. Bathgate was second and Ab McDonald third.

The Penguins also said left wing Gene Ubriaco, ninth leading scorer in the American Hockey League last season, was obtained from Hershey for center Gil Gilbert. He'll be ready as a reserve.

The most ambitious expansion program in sports history gets its first go-round tonight when the National Hockey League opens its 51st season.

Five games are on tap, three of them involving expansion teams which have doubled the NHL's size from six to 12 clubs. It marks the first time any major sport has doubled its size in one year.

Among the new teams, only Los Angeles is idle tonight. Philadelphia plays at California, Minnesota is at St. Louis and Montreal helps Pittsburgh get started. In games matching older teams, New York plays at Chicago and Detroit is at Boston.

Philadelphia opens as cofavorite in the NHL's new division with California.

Tulsa Hurricanes Set Passing Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — The Tulsa Hurricanes are kicking up a storm of aerials that has enabled them to break one important record and strengthen their passing lead among the nation's major college football teams.

The Hurricanes passed for 698 yards in overwhelming Idaho State 58-0 Saturday night, eclipsing the mark of 634 set by the University of Texas at El Paso against North Texas State in 1965.

Tulsa also tied the record for most touchdown passes with eight previously established by Kentucky in 1950. The Hurricanes rushing-passing yards of 798 was second only to Wyoming's 871 against Colorado State College in 1949.

The Hurricanes' impressive performance lifted their season passage average to 431 yards. New Mexico is a distant second with 283.

Tulsa also is No. 1 in total offense with a 568 yard average, 118 more than runnerup West Texas State.

UCLA paces the nation in rushing with a 287.3 mark while U. Texas at El Paso is the leader in scoring with a 41-point average and Kansas State heads the punting list with a 45.7-yard average.

Syracuse is the leader in two defensive categories. The Orange has yielded only 18.7 yards a game rushing and 129 yards a game over-all.

New Mexico's Stone Leading Quarterback

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — More than 18 months ago Terry Stone cleaned out his football locker at Baylor University in Waco, Tex., and came home with a stomach ailment.

A few months later, University of New Mexico Football Coach Bill Weeks was in his office when Stone walked in and asked for the Lobo quarterbacking job.

And just last spring after his red-shirt season, Stone injured his knee in spring practice and underwent surgery.

Today, the 6-foot-1, 190-pound junior quarterback is atop the nation's passers and first in total offense with the philosophy: "If we throw two times in the next game and won, I'd be happy."

Weeks, Stone and the rest of the Lobos are working on ways to better New Mexico's 1-3 record, in which Stone completed 77 of 167 passes, a .461 percentage, for 1,032 yards and six touchdowns.

"The pressure of being the nation's leading passer hasn't bothered me," he said. "The only thing that bothers me is that we're losing. I'd feel a lot better if we were winning.

"When we put four (good) quarters together, I feel sorry for the team that we put it together against," he said.

Jets' Boozer Tops AFL Scorers

NEW YORK (AP) — Emerson Boozer, who has scored eight touchdowns for the New York Jets, retained the American Football League's scoring leadership this week, according to statistics released by the league today.

Tulsa also tied the record for most touchdown passes with eight previously established by Kentucky in 1950. The Hurricanes rushing-passing yards of 798 was second only to Wyoming's 871 against Colorado State College in 1949.

The Hurricanes' impressive performance lifted their season passage average to 431 yards. New Mexico is a distant second with 283.

Tulsa also is No. 1 in total offense with a 568 yard average, 118 more than runnerup West Texas State.

UCLA paces the nation in rushing with a 287.3 mark while U. Texas at El Paso is the leader in scoring with a 41-point average and Kansas State heads the punting list with a 45.7-yard average.

Syracuse is the leader in two defensive categories. The Orange has yielded only 18.7 yards a game rushing and 129 yards a game over-all.

New Mexico's Stone Leading Quarterback

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — More than 18 months ago Terry Stone cleaned out his football locker at Baylor University in Waco, Tex., and came home with a stomach ailment.

A few months later, University of New Mexico Football Coach Bill Weeks was in his office when Stone walked in and asked for the Lobo quarterbacking job.

And just last spring after his red-shirt season, Stone injured his knee in spring practice and underwent surgery.

Today, the 6-foot-1, 190-pound junior quarterback is atop the nation's passers and first in total offense with the philosophy: "If we throw two times in the next game and won, I'd be happy."

Weeks, Stone and the rest of the Lobos are working on ways to better New Mexico's 1-3 record, in which Stone completed 77 of 167 passes, a .461 percentage, for 1,032 yards and six touchdowns.

"The pressure of being the nation's leading passer hasn't bothered me," he said. "The only thing that bothers me is that we're losing. I'd feel a lot better if we were winning.

"When we put four (good) quarters together, I feel sorry for the team that we put it together against," he said.

AP Picks USC, Purdue, Georgia

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A poet once described October as the Month of Myths. Some of the college football scores posted last weekend must have been myths.

This week's picks:

Southern California over Notre Dame: This season Southern California is unbeaten and Notre Dame bowed to Purdue. That record doesn't count. What counts is that the Trojans were humiliated by the Irish last year, 51-0 and they want revenge.

Purdue over Ohio State: Because Leroy Keyes of the Boilermakers is probably the best running back in the Big Ten.

Georgia over Mississippi: The Bulldogs boast of two of the best tackles in the South in Don Hayes and Edgar Chandler.

UCLA over California: There are other players on UCLA besides Gary Beban but he is the reason the Bruins are winning.

Colorado over Missouri: Wilmer Cooks, Colorado's all-conference fullback, carries 215 lethal pounds. Missouri still not strong at center.

Alabama over Vanderbilt: Alabama is known as the Crimson Tide, Vanderbilt as the Commodores—but the former makes the bigger splash.

Nebraska over Kansas: Last week the Kansas Jayhawks couldn't handle Ohio University.

North Carolina State over Maryland: The Wolfpack lists the more experienced players, especially on the defensive unit.

Tennessee over Georgia Tech: The Volunteers have the chance to get back in the national limelight and quarterback Dewey Warren will show them the way. Tech lacks a running attack to go with its aerial antics.

Indiana over Iowa: For the first time in 57 years, the Hoosiers have a chance to open a season with a fourth straight victory.

Louisiana State over Miami: The Bayou Bengals are the surprise team of the South and one big reason (220 pounds of him) is John Garlington, defensive end from Pumpkin Center, La.

Michigan State over Michigan: Neither team as strong as in recent years but this is a family feud and the head-knocking will sound like the Anvil Chorus.

Texas over Oklahoma: Not only does Texas have Super Bill Bradley at quarterback but the Longhorns also can boast of a real honest-to-goodness teenaged millionaire in Corby Robertson at defensive end.

Washington over Oregon: Those junior college transfers now feel at home in the Huskie line-up.

Baltimore's Rich Volk NFL Defensive Standout

By The Associated Press

Baltimore's Rich Volk, a newcomer to the National Football League big game hunt, already has one battered Bearskin in his trophy room.

Volk, who intercepted a fourth-quarter pass and raced 94 yards for his frist pro touchdown last Sunday as the unbeaten Colts cuffed the Chicago Bears 24-3, was cited today by the Associated Press as the NFL's Defensive Player of the Week.

It was the third interception in four games for Volk, a 22-year-old rookie from the University of Michigan whose poised performance in the Colts' secondary has helped them reel off four victories in four starts.

Trailing 7-3 in a defensive struggle to Chicago, the Bears mounted a 74-yard drive to the Colts' eight early in the last period. Rudy Bukich then lofted a pass toward Brian Piccolo in the corner.

But Volk stole the ball on the six and took off down the sideline, breaking a last-ditch tackle by Bukich on the Bears' 35 and going the rest of the way unhindered.

"That could have been the turning point for us," groaned Papa Bear George Halas. "As it was, it was the turning point for them."

"Piccolo ran a wide pattern but the pass wasn't too good," recalled Volk, who made the game-breaking interception with his family and friends from Wauseon, Ohio, watching from the stands. "It was a little behind him and since I was playing him tight, man-to-man, all I had to do was step in and intercept it."

The 94-yard interception return was eight yards short of the NFL record.

OU's Cleve Bryant MAC Back-Of-Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two gridders who figured in upsets last Saturday are the Mid-American Conference Back and Lineman of the Week.

Ohio University sophomore quarterback Cleve Bryant won accolades as Back of the Week for a standout performance in the Bobcats' 30-15 triumph over Kansas.

And Miami's junior defensive tackle, Errol Kahoun, won plaudits for his role in a 21-7 upset of Kent State.

Bryant, a 5-foot-11, 170 pound native of Canton, pitched a 54-yard touchdown pass on the third play of the game. He went on to complete 11 of 23 passes for a school record of 265 yards and two touchdowns.

Bryant also lugged the ball 17 times for 79 yards and two touchdowns.

Kahoun was a thorn in Kent's attack all afternoon. The 6-3, 239-pound Coshocton native was credited with 11 solo tackles and assisted on a dozen others. He also forced Don Fitzgerald to fumble and recovered the ball on Kent's 19 to set up the winning score.

Other backs nominated included Bob Zimpfer, Bowling Green; Billy Blunt, Kent and Bob Smith, Miami.

Linemen mentioned were Dennis Zolciak, Bowling Green; Nick Zuj, Kent; Todd Snyder, Ohio, and Rolf Strout, Western Michigan.

Quarry, Patterson Ring Foes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Heavyweight Jerry Quarry predicts his return bout with ex-champion Floyd Patterson will end in a knockout, and his foe is inclined to agree.

Still Patterson doesn't feel the current World Boxing Association tournament winner can feel himself a true champion until he defeats Cassius Clay.

Quarry, from suburban Bellflower, and New Yorker Patterson appeared at a news conference Tuesday before heading back to their training camps in preparation for their Oct. 28 meeting.

This time they fight as part of the WBA tournament after battling to a draw last summer when Patterson was down twice and Quarry once. Each looks to a triumph this time.

Of those still in the WBA tournament, Patterson said, "Any one of the five left will feel the way I do. . .unless he gets a victory over Clay, he won't be the true champion."

Frank Ryan Rests Sore Shoulder

CLEVELAND (AP)— Passer Frank Ryan's shoulder is "extremely sore" from action against the Pittsburgh Steelers Saturday night, and the Cleveland Browns quarterback will be resting most of this week.

Coach Blanton Collier said Ryan probably won't start throwing again until Thursday or Friday.

The coach said middle linebacker Dale Lindsey, who was unable to finish the Pittsburgh game because of a sore foot, may not be ready Sunday, when the Browns meet the St. Louis Cardinals.

Rookie Bob Matheson would start if Lindsey can't play.

Collier observed that the Pittsburgh game was a rough one, but the St. Louis contest will be tougher "in a different way.

"The Cardinals' offensive line is more experienced than Pittsburgh's," he said. The coach expects more blitznig from the Cardinal defense, describing them as "quick and fast."

Olympic Boxers Tune Up

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Japan's Olympic boxing team, en route to Mexico City, will stop off here for a tuneup tournament Monday against an assembly of top talent from the United States and Canada.

The 10-man team includes boxers of 156 pounds and less. The card here will include all weights through the heavies, announced the sponsoring Post-Intelligencer, with North Americans competing in the ponderous divisons.

The Japanese will take part in the International Sports Week program at Mexico City.

The word gethsemane means "oil press."

WILT CHAMBERLAIN

Wilt's Pact Not Signed

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Most athletes would't think of allowing a reported $250,000 contract to gather dust on a general manager's desk.

That's a luxury only Wilt Chamberlain can afford.

Once again the Philadelphia 76ers' All-Star center has pulled his preseason disappearing act, although he has agreed to sign with the National Basketball Association champions. The reported $250,000 salary is believed to be the highest sum ever paid an athlete.

"I really don't know if he's coming," said General Manager Jack Ramsay, who earlier said the 7-foot-1 Chamberlain was due Monday. "We are expecting him. He hasn't signed yet."

Mid-Western Pop Warner Wins Again

The Mid-Western Pop Warner football team won its fifth game of the season by the score of 34-0 over Brighton Twp. Saturday.

Mid-Western remains undefeated and in sole possession of first place in the Northern Division of the Beaver County Pop Warner football league.

Mid-Western got off to a slow start in the first half and scored only one touchdown. The TD came on a 35-yard pass from quarterback Bob Lengyel to left half Larry Slappy. Fullback Tom Kennedy made the extra point.

Slappy took the second half kickoff on his own 30 and ran 70 yards for the team's longest TD of the year. Slappy had help from Ed DiCiccio, Bill Moore, Kennedy, Charles Craik and Dave DiCiccio on down field blocking. DiCiccio made the extra point. Lengyel then scored on a two yard plunge and Ron Cateldo scored the extra point. Mid-Western's fourth touchdown came on a 10 - yard run by Cregg Irvine. DiCiccio added the point after. Cateldo intercepted a Brighton Twp. pass to set up Mid-Western's fifth touchdown. Lengyel ran 26 yards for the score. Nick Scelp missed the point after.

Mid-Western's next game will be at the Midland High football stadium at 1 p. m. Saturday against a strong Patterson Twp. team. Patterson has only one loss and is in second place behind Mid-Western. Mid-Western has to defeat Patterson Twp. to win the Northern Division.

Mid-Western head coach is Vince Monaco.

Michigan Back Honored

The Michigan band is playing "Hail to the Victors" with something less than conviction these days, but halfback Ron Johnson is single-handedly recalling the bygone days of Wolverine greatness.

Michigan lost to Navy 26-21 Saturday, but Johnson's ground-gaining exploits were such that he was named Associated Press Back of the Week today.

The 6-foot-1, 190-pound junior piled up a total of 270 yards from scrimmage in 26 carries, including touchdown runs of 62 and 72 yards. Another 37-yard dash set up a third Wolverine score.

He even caught three passes for 19 yards, thus accounting for all but 97 of Michigan's 386-vard total offense.

Johnson's total broke the Michigan single-game record set 24 years ago by Bill Daley and surpassed the best efforts of such greats of yesteryear as Tom Harmon, Willie Heston and present coach Bump Elliott.

"I have never had a back who gained such yardage and ran so well," Elliott said later.

"We've never faced a back like Johnson," added Navy Coach Bill Elias. "And we hope we do not see one like him again for a long, long time. He was simply great."

Johnson, a brother of the St. Louis Cardinals' outfielder Alex Johnson, was understandably pleased with his output but disappointed in the outcome of the game.

Scouting Dinner Set At Weirton

WEIRTON — An address by Perle L. Whitehead, veteran Scouting official, and presentation of Silver Beaver awards will highlight the annual Fellowship Dinner of Ft. Steuben Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, next Tuesday at the Millsop Community Center here.

Nearly 500 adult volunteers in the council's Scouting program are expected to attend the meeting, which will begin at 6:30.

Whitehead, retired deputy regional executive in Region 4, spent more than 41 years in the Scouting profession. Born near Germantown, Ohio, he attended Otterbein College and later was awarded the Honorary Doctor of Laws degree by that institution.

A veteran of World War I, he was a school teacher prior to joining the Boy Scout program. He participated in two world jamborees in Europe and four national jamborees in this country, and pioneered in many facets of Scouting including work with handicapped children, orphanages and delinquents.

The council, supported by funds from local Community Chest organizations, serves nearly 3,000 boys in the Weirton Cove and Brooke Districts in West Virginia and the Dehewamis and Yellow Creek districts in Ohio.

Ohio Man Found Guilty In Killing

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A Lucas County Common Pleas Court jury deliberated nearly six hours Tuesday night before returning a guilty verdict against Thomas Carter, 20, of nearby Clyde, convicted for the $6 robbery-slaying of an elderly man in September 1966.

Carter was found guilty on two counts—first-degree murder and first-degree murder in the perpetration of robbery. The jury did not recommend mercy, making the death penalty mandatory.

Carter was accused of robbing 86-year-old Eugene Carrithers of $6 and then dismembering the victim's body with an electric saw. Parts of the body were placed in garbage cans at Carter's home, court testimony showed.

WILT CHAMBERLAIN

Wilt's Pact Not Signed

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Most athletes would't think of allowing a reported $250,000 contract to gather dust on a general manager's desk.

That's a luxury only Wilt Chamberlain can afford.

Once again the Philadelphia 76ers' All-Star center has pulled his preseason disappearing act, although he has agreed to sign with the National Basketball Association champions. The reported $250,000 salary is believed to be the highest sum ever paid an athlete.

"I really don't know if he's coming," said General Manager Jack Ramsay, who earlier said the 7-foot-1 Chamberlain was due Monday. "We are expecting him. He hasn't signed yet."

Mid-Western Pop Warner Wins Again

The Mid-Western Pop Warner football team won its fifth game of the season by the score of 34-0 over Brighton Twp. Saturday.

Mid-Western remains undefeated and in sole possession of first place in the Northern Division of the Beaver County Pop Warner football league.

Mid-Western got off to a slow start in the first half and scored only one touchdown. The TD came on a 35-yard pass from quarterback Bob Lengyel to left half Larry Slappy. Fullback Tom Kennedy made the extra point.

Slappy took the second half kickoff on his own 30 and ran 70 yards for the team's longest TD of the year. Slappy had help from Ed DiCiccio, Bill Moore, Kennedy, Charles Craik and Dave DiCiccio on down field blocking. DiCiccio made the extra point. Lengyel then scored on a two yard plunge and Ron Cateldo scored the extra point. Mid-Western's fourth touchdown came on a 10 - yard run by Cregg Irvine. DiCiccio added the point after. Cateldo intercepted a Brighton Twp. pass to set up Mid-Western's fifth touchdown. Lengyel ran 26 yards for the score. Nick Scelp missed the point after.

Mid-Western's next game will be at the Midland High football stadium at 1 p. m. Saturday against a strong Patterson Twp. team. Patterson has only one loss and is in second place behind Mid-Western. Mid-Western has to defeat Patterson Twp. to win the Northern Division.

Mid-Western head coach is Vince Monaco.

Ron Johnson Brother Of Cards' Alex

Michigan Back Honored

The Michigan band is playing "Hail to the Victors" with something less than conviction these days, but halfback Ron Johnson is single-handedly recalling the bygone days of Wolverine greatness.

Michigan lost to Navy 26-21 Saturday, but Johnson's ground-gaining exploits were such that he was named Associated Press Back of the Week today.

The 6-foot-1, 190-pound junior piled up a total of 270 yards from scrimmage in 26 carries, including touchdown runs of 62 and 72 yards. Another 37-yard dash set up a third Wolverine score.

He even caught three passes for 19 yards, thus accounting for all but 97 of Michigan's 386-vard total offense.

Johnson's total broke the Michigan single-game record set 24 years ago by Bill Daley and surpassed the best efforts of such greats of yesteryear as Tom Harmon, Willie Heston and present coach Bump Elliott.

"I have never had a back who gained such yardage and ran so well," Elliott said later.

"We've never faced a back like Johnson," added Navy Coach Bill Elias. "And we hope we do not see one like him again for a long, long time. He was simply great."

Johnson, a brother of the St. Louis Cardinals' outfielder Alex Johnson, was understandably pleased with his output but disappointed in the outcome of the game.

Scouting Dinner Set At Weirton

WEIRTON — An address by Perle L. Whitehead, veteran Scouting official, and presentation of Silver Beaver awards will highlight the annual Fellowship Dinner of Ft. Steuben Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, next Tuesday at the Millsop Community Center here.

Nearly 500 adult volunteers in the council's Scouting program are expected to attend the meeting, which will begin at 6:30.

Whitehead, retired deputy regional executive in Region 4, spent more than 41 years in the Scouting profession. Born near Germantown, Ohio, he attended Otterbein College and later was awarded the Honorary Doctor of Laws degree by that institution.

A veteran of World War I, he was a school teacher prior to joining the Boy Scout program. He participated in two world jamborees in Europe and four national jamborees in this country, and pioneered in many facets of Scouting including work with handicapped children, orphanages and delinquents.

The council, supported by funds from local Community Chest organizations, serves nearly 3,000 boys in the Weir-Cove and Brooke Districts in West Virginia and the Dehewamis and Yellow Creek districts in Ohio.

Ohio Man Found Guilty In Killing

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A Lucas County Common Pleas Court jury deliberated nearly six hours Tuesday night before returning a guilty verdict against Thomas Carter, 20, of nearby Clyde, convicted for the $6 robbery-slaying of an elderly man in September 1966.

Carter was found guilty on two counts—first-degree murder and first-degree murder in the perpetration of robbery. The jury did not recommend mercy, making the death penalty mandatory.

Carter was accused of robbing 88-year-old Eugene Carrithers of $6 and then dismembering the victim's body with an electric saw. Parts of the body were placed in garbage cans at Carter's home, court testimony showed.

Diddle leads Sam Scott by 45 yards. Scott has gained all his yardage on the ground, while Diddle has added 63 yards rushing to his 376 passing yards.

Jim Musuraca took over the lead in pass receiving by grabbing four passes for 93 yards against Dayton Dunbar. Starting ends Bruce Christian and Tom Chambers caught their first passes of the season.

Proposal On Sewer Line To Be Presented Lisbon

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners have directed W. A. Quicksall & Associates to ask Lisbon Council and the Board of Public Affairs to accept a proposed sewer line from a group of homes on the west side of N. Market St. Ext. outside the village.

William McKenna, former Lisbon resident with the consulting engineering firm, will draw up the proposal for presentation to the village.

The New Philadelphia firm is doing the engineering for the County Water and Sewer District 2. The Ohio Health Department recently declared the N. Market St. sewage situation a nuisance and health hazard and directed the commissioners to correct it.

THE STATE suggested that a sewer line serving approximately 15 homes outside the village could be connected to the Lisbon sewer system at the Rose Addition where sewage form the township homes emerges and collects in a ditch.

McKenna told the commissioners the Board of Public Affairs would be receptive to a request to tie the existing homes into the village system at no expense to the village. "This would not preclude the future possibility of a sewer plan, more comprehensive in scope, to serve adjacent areas that might develop, "McKenna added.

The commissioners said they will hold open until the last of January the question of action on the proposed Rogers Honor Farm project.

Just last week the commissioners received Common Pleas Court permission to use $16,360 previously allocated for the honor farm toward the construction of the Robert Bycroft School for Retarded. They told the court the honor farm project is dormant and there appears little chance it will be revived.

AGREEMENT to delay a final decision another three or four months was taken after the commissioners met Monday wit Frederick L. Faust, chief of the Bureau of Probation Development, and Keith Brooks, youth counselor for the Ohio Youth Commission; Judge Louis Tobin of Juvenile Court, sponsor of the honor farm plan, and Robert F. Beatty of East Liverpool, project architect.

The commissioners Monday awarded a contract for a 1968 ¾-ton pickup truck to the Columbiana Motor Co. for $1,777, including trade - in of a ½-ton truck. The new truck will be for the county engineer's department. The accepted bid was the lowest of five submitted.

In other business, the commissioners hired Joseph Figley of East Palestine as custodian of Eastern Area Court at East Palestine at $1.50 per hour; approved payment of $306 to John Trunick for repairs to the dog pound, and voted to install a Xerox machine on a rental basis.

The next meeting will be Monday, since the Courthouse will be closed Thursday for Columbus Day.

One out of every 17 persons in the United States lived on a farm in 1966, according to a Bureau of the Census report.

Driscoll And Nace Report On Program

Lunch Plan Works Well, Lisbon Board Informed

LISBON — The junior class at Lisbon High School, which has no cafeteria, is making about $6 a day on noon lunches.

The 11th graders handle the sale of quick - heat sandwiches delivered by a commercial supplier and sell about $30 worth of food each noon.

Supt. Joe W. Driscoll and Principal George M. Nace Jr. told the Board of Education Tuesday night that the lunch program is working out very well. The plan was approved this year by the board.

Some high school students go to Lincoln Elementary School for lunch, others eat sack lunches in the gym and others patronize drugstores and dairy stores.

ON DRISCOLL'S recommendation, the board voted to defer a decision on buying a closed circuit television system and apply the bulk of available Title III monies on industrial arts equipment.

The board authorized him to use the funds to buy an opaque projector for Lincoln School, $345; three reading labs for McKinley School, $169.50; seven science filmstrips for the high school, $35, and miscellaneous equipment for the Industrial Arts Department, $1,357.

Mrs. Dorothy Foster was employed as secretary at McKinley school at $2,900 to replace Rose Tafini, whose resignation to take other employment will become effective Monday.

Leonard Welch of Hanoverton RD 1, part-time music teacher in the local system, was employed for another class — junior high vocal music at Lincoln School — for one afternoon a week at $767.50 a year.

Permission was granted the high school American History class to visit Gettysburg May 11-12; Gary Pike, basketball coach, to attend the Ohio Basketball coaches' clinic Oct. 27 at Columbus, and the Yuletide Ball committee to use Lincoln School from 10 to 1 Saturday night, Dec. 23.

DRISCOLL said the welder - fitter class set up under the Manpower Development Training Act will begin late this month or early in November at the high school. Men interested may apply at he Ohio State Employment Service offices in Salem and East Liverpool.

Classes will be held afternoons and nights Monday through Friday and Saturday mornings for 21 weeks. The 20 trainees accepted for the 840-hour course will receive mileage and pay while learning the skill.

The instructors will be George Schorsten, welding; Robert Blake, shop math, and John Vaglia, blueprint reading. All are on the Lisbon high faculty and will receive $5 an hour for the extra work.

Driscoll said two Lisbon women have been accepted for the teacher aides training course to be given at Wellsville under a federal grant.

Dr. Wade A. Bacon, board president, suggested that county school superintendents and presidents of boards of education meet to discuss a proposed county vocational high school.

Driscoll said the state's recent up-dating of a 1964 vocational high school survey in Columbiana County reveals a growing need for a county vocational center.

Dr. Bacon also suggested that the local school system publish a newsletter periodically for school district residents.

Businessmen Donate $819 To Help Park

The Chester Park Board meeting Tuesday night, received $819.50 in donations from local merchants for a new play area to be constructed at the facility.

The area will be 60 by 250 feet, cemented for tennis, basketball and ice skating under the lights in winter.

Miss Sara Thomas, secretary-treasurer, sent letters to the area's businessmen asking their help.

Lester Kirschler announced the "Living Ends" will perform for the dance Saturday night.

Plans are being made to bring in bands from Salem, Youngstown and possibly Pittsburgh for the dances.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: I'm perplexed as to what items should be most frequently washed. Have you any ideas on this?

HOUSEWIFE.

Hon, I would guess it to be whatever you use most frequently.

Here are a couple of hints which I highly recommend:

I know most people don't wash pillowcases but once a week, which brings up a question. Shouldn't they be washed more often?

Pillowcases get twice as dirty as anything in our household for our hair is loaded with oil and hair spray. (Oil collects dust, you know.)

Many people don't realize how much time they spend sleeping, but it amounts to about one-third of their lifetime. So why not wash those pillowcases twice a week?

Furthermore, I recommend using not only one pillowcase, but TWO on each pillow. The second one will protect your ticking from the excess oil and perspiration that goes through the first pillowcase.

This will save replacing those tickings so often. If you've never covered one, you don't know how costly and time-consuming it can be.

The next item would be girdles. You know how much perspiration they absorb? They will last so much longer if thrown in the washer frequently with the bath towels.

Remember, nine times out of ten, any girdle you buy is a manmade fabric. It has no pores! Your towel will scrub against this "hold-in" project and it will last much, much longer.

Don't let perspiration rot those fabulous girdles. I've learned from an authority that the rubbing action in washing makes them last far longer than if we allow the soil and perspiration to build up . . .

So, to my way of thinking, these are two items that should be washed more often than many of us do.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: This is probably the most unglamorous hint you'll get in the mail today but it really works.

The baby had dropped a comb in the toilet. Husband gone, no snake to use, the plumber's friend wouldn't budge it. So I used the spring from the screen door as a snake!

Worked like a charm, and sure saved a plumber's bill.

MOTHER.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband drilled small holes in the bottom of our barbecue grill.

After he has cooked our meal he turns the garden hose on the coals. The ashes and water run out through the holes in the bottom and the good charcoal stays in the grill.

The charcoal dries out and it is ready for the next cooking.

Also, if you are like us you probably forget and let the grill sit out in the rain. So with the holes in the bottom of the grill, the water runs out and helps prevent rusting!

We like the idea very much.

G. McKENZIE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I did what you did before I read what you said . . . (about reading cautions!)

DEAR HELOISE: Have you been elected to make a poster for P.T.A. or church? Well, I have.

And I found that liquid shoe polish does an excellent painting job. Just use the dauber in the bottle for your brush. Great!

OLIVE BARTON.

Restudy Set On CATV Role

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has directed a federal court in Nevada to reexamine preliminary moves by the state to regulate Community Antenna Television systems as public utilities.

The high court said the district court should reconsider the case in view of changes in Nevada law.

Two CATV operators, TV Pix Inc. and Wells TV Inc., had appealed after the district court dismissed their petitions for injunctions against the Nevada Public Service Commission.

With Monday's high court action the dismissal was set aside so that the two companies could bring new litigation.

TV Pix and Wells TV had applied for the injunctions when they were ordered to show cause why they should not be regulated.

In dismissing the petitions, the three - judge district court said the state had not at that point undertaken regulation, but simply ordered a hearing.

"If the statutory exclusion of interstate commerce is given a broad interpretation by the state courts, the difficult questions of infringement of state action upon federal constitutional prohibitions may never be reached," it said.

The commission's show cause order was issued under an amendment of state statutes to define the term public utility as embracing "any plant property, or facility furnishing facilities to the public for the transmission of intelligence via electricity." A further provision excepted interstate commerce.

The CATV operators argued that community antenna systems are links in a chain of interstate communications, and that state regulation would clash with the U.S. Constitution's commerce and supremacy clauses and with the 14th Amendment.

The three gases nitrogen, oxygen and angon make up most of the earth's atmosphere.

Weather Delays Bid On Solo Flight Record

SHANNON, Ireland (AP) — Bad weather early today forced a second postponement of Sheila Scott's attempt to break the transatlantic record for a solo flight.

Miss Scott had hoped to leave Shannon Airport in her twin-engined Piper Comanche, bound for Gander and Toronto. Airport officials said she would try again Thursday.

Students Slice Slacks But Leave Miniskirts

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP) — Mrs. Cathy McNeight's Clemson University campus wardrobe of slacks and miniskirts has been cut in half.

The slacks at least must go.

The Clemson student court has ruled that the slacks are improper for class dress but disagreed with Dean of Women Susan Deloney's contention that Mrs. McNeight's miniskirts also must be banned.

Mrs. McNeight, 20, an architecture student, is a pretty, 5-foot-7 brunette. Her miniskirts leave about 7 inches of leg showing above the top of the kneecap.

"My skirts aren't short," she told the student court. "My legs are long."

7 Flee Jail In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A statewide alert was out today for seven prisoners, including an accused murderer, who broke out of the Franklin County Jail Tuesday night.

Sheriff's deputies said the prisoners — confined in a bull pen — apparently used an iron bar from a bunk to pry the lock on a door before sawing two bars on a ground floor cell window.

Deputies speculated that someone had smuggled a hacksaw into the jail.

The escapees then climbed through the bars and into a window well before dropping about 15 feet into an alley.

The prisoners held on a variety of charges, were identified as:

James R. Dillon, 49, Gahanna, Columbus, first-degree murder.

Ronald L. Rush, 20, Columbus, auto theft, sodomy and escape.

John V. Cooper Jr., 18, Tampa, Fla., and Mike L. Wilson, 21, Columbus, interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle.

William J. Weber, 52, Hamilton, robbery.

Earl J. Dean, 37, Columbus, parole violation.

Dillon, accused in the shotgun slaying of his wife last Aug. 16, has been bound over to the Franklin County Grand Jury.

The escape charge against Rush was filed after he broke out of the jail once before, deputies reported.

Mrs. Leonard Tost, supervisor of the physical therapy at the United Cerebral Palsy Clinic, works with a child to help strengthen muscles, teach balance and functional activities such as walking, sitting and dressing.

Twenty - five afflicted children ranging from infants to adolescents received 342 treatments at the clinic from September through June last year. These children use wheel chairs or are in braces.

The clinic also conducts nursery school sessions each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon for the cerebral palsied children. Mrs. Everett Ludwig, instructor, is assisted by members of the Junior Women's Club and the East Liverpool Key Club.

Building Burned In Rogers Drill

ROGERS — Volunteer firemen Tuesday evening burned a home southwest of Signal in a practice session.

The building was set afire several times and then extinguished to give the men experience in battling blazes.

A brief business session followed at the station, with bills totaling $289 ordered paid.

Firemen will sponsor a Halloween dance Oct. 21 at the station.

Gerald Heaton was reinstated and Robert Whitmore was accepted as a new member on a 30-day probationary period.

Radio Reduces Paper Task Of Army In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fighting forces in Vietnam are replacing paperwork with the human voice—thanks to greatly improved radio equipment.

Maj. Gen. Walter E. Lotz, Jr., the Army's chief of communications-electronics, told the Association of the United States Army today: "Because commanders have effective and reliable voice radio, they do not normally resort to written orders as in previous combat experiences."

Lotz said voice radio is becoming "the primary means of command and control within the division."

Ninety - six U.S. mountains exceed 13,905 feet in height; 58 of them are in Colorado.

Crash Damages Beechwood Auto

A Beechwood woman's auto was damaged in a traffic mishap Tuesday at 2 p. m. on St. Clair Ave. at Potters Alley, police reported.

The collision involved a 1966 sedan driven by Mrs. Hazel L. Eddy, 61, of 102 Center St., Beechwood, and a 1965 sedan operated by Harry Lampinstein, 53, of 200 Walnut St., Beaver. It damaged the left door and rear panel of the Eddy auto.

Lampinstein told police he was pulling from a parking spot and did not see the Eddy car. Mrs. Eddy reported she was turning into the alley when Lampinstein's backing car struck her auto.

The Boy Scouts of America was founded in 1910.

Traditionall, Navajo Indian hogan entrances face an easterly direction, so that the house is open to the influences of the God of the East, or God of the Dawn. Modern hogans generally face whatever direction is most convenient for the residents.

School Issue Wins Support

The West Point Parent-Teacher Association, meeting Monday night at the school, voted to endorse the $480,000 Beaver Local School District bond issue which will appear on the ballot at the Nov. 7 general election.

The PTA will sponsor a masquerade square dance Oct. 21 at the West Point fire hall. The children's Halloween party will be held Oct. 27 at the school.

After hearing discussions on the relative merits of PTA's and Parent - Teacher Organizations, the group voted, 29-6, in favor of retaining its affiliation as a PTA. The PTA was discussed by Clarence Thornley and the PTO was evaluated by Mrs. Annabell White.

A "white elephant" sale netted $8.90. Mrs. Mary Steffen's first grade won the attendance banner. Mrs. Glenda Boch was introduced as a new teachers' aide.

James Fryman, president, presided. Mrs. Helen Taylor led devotions. The next meeting will be Monday, Nov. 13.

McLuhan Urges Museum Movies

NEW YORK (AP) — Communications theorist Marshall McLuhan says museums should use more films, still photographs and audio recordings to add meaning to their exhibits.

"Museums are a magnificent illustration of Western bias toward the world of artifacts," he told a seminar of museum people here Monday.

"The Westerner, a visual man, think of art and language as representational. But we are the only civilization of which that is true," he said.

He advised exhibits fashioned along multmedia lines to reach the new generations. "Sight is the only sense that creates detachment, the others create depth and involvement," he said.

Police Seek 3rd Man In LSD Killings

NEW YORK (AP) — Detectives searched the coffee houses, taverns and other East Village hippie haunts today seeking at least one more suspect in the LSD party murders of a Connecticut girl and her drifter companion.

Two men have been charged with homicide in the bludgeon deaths early Sunday of Linda Rae Fitzpatrick, 18, and James "Groovy" Hutchinson, 21, and a high police official said, "there may be more arrests."

A third man, Fred Wright, 31, was scheduled to appear in criminal court today for a hearing on charges of rape and robbery that police say are related to the murder investigation.

Miss Fitzpatrick was buried Tuesday beneath the tall, clean pines of a Greenwich, Conn., cemetery—far from the teeming East Village streets where she briefly cast her lot with the hippies.

None of those with whom she had formed a fleeting and tragic link was present in Greenwich's Christ Episcopal church for the farewell. Her final resting place was not far from her family's $150,000 mansion.

Hutchinson's body was returned for burial Friday in his native Central Falls, R.I., which he left two years ago on a cross-country hegira that ended in a garbage-strewn basement on Manhattan's lower East Side.

He and Miss Fitzpatrick, daughter of a wealthy spice importer, were found nude, beaten to death in the cellar of a tenement in the climax to a wild interracial LSD party.

Those charged in connection with the slayings were Donald Ramsey, 26, practitioner of African religious rites, and Thomas Dennis, 25, also a resident of the East Village.

In 1890, there were 6,600 miles of horsecar track in the United States, with 28,000 cars and 105,000 horses and mules for power.

Delegates To Report

7 Flee Jail In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A statewide alert was out today for seven prisoners, including an accused murderer, who broke out of the Franklin County Jail Tuesday night.

Sheriff's deputies said the prisoners — confined in a bull pen — apparently used an iron bar from a bunk to pry the lock on a door before sawing two bars on a ground floor cell window.

Deputies speculated that someone had smuggled a hacksaw into the jail.

The escapees then climbed through the bars and into a window well before dropping about 15 feet into an alley.

The prisoners held on a variety of charges, were identified as:

James R. Dillon, 49, Gahanna, Columbus, first-degree murder.

William J. Weber, 52, Hamilton, robbery.

Earl J. Dean, 37, Columbus, parole violation.

Dillon, accused in the shotgun slaying of his wife last Aug. 16, has been bound over to the Franklin County Grand Jury.

Police Seek 3rd Man In LSD Killings

NEW YORK (AP) — Detectives searched the coffee houses, taverns and other East Village hippie haunts today seeking at least one more suspect in the LSD party murders of a Connecticut girl and her drifter companion.

Two men have been charged with homicide in the bludgeon deaths early Sunday of Linda Rae Fitzpatrick, 18, and James "Groovy" Hutchinson, 21, and a high police official said, "there may be more arrests."

A third man, Fred Wright, 31, was scheduled to appear in criminal court today for a hearing on charges of rape and robbery that police say are related to the murder investigation.

Miss Fitzpatrick was buried Tuesday beneath the tall, clean pines of a Greenwich, Conn., cemetery—far from the teeming East Village streets where she briefly cast her lot with the hippies.

None of those with whom she had formed a fleeting and tragic link was present in Greenwich's Christ Episcopal church for the farewell. Her final resting place was not far from her family's $150,000 mansion.

Hutchinson's body was returned for burial Friday in his native Central Falls, R.I., which he left two years ago on a cross-country hegira that ended in a garbage-strewn basement on Manhattan's lower East Side.

He and Miss Fitzpatrick, daughter of a wealthy spice importer, were found nude, beaten to death in the cellar of a tenement in the climax to a wild interracial LSD party.

Those charged in connection with the slayings were Donald Ramsey, 26, practitioner of African religious rites, and Thomas Dennis, 25, also a resident of the East Village.

In 1890, there were 6,600 miles of horsecar track in the United States, with 28,000 cars and 105,000 horses and mules for power.

Building Burned In Rogers Drill

ROGERS — Volunteer firemen Tuesday evening burned a home southwest of Signal in a practice session.

The building was set afire several times and then extinguished to give the men experience in battling blazes.

Firemen will sponsor a Halloween dance Oct. 21 at the station.

Gerald Heaton was reinstated and Robert Whitmore was accepted as a new member on a 30-day probationary period.

Radio Reduces Paper Task Of Army In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fighting forces in Vietnam are replacing paperwork with the human voice—thanks to greatly improved radio equipment.

Maj. Gen. Walter E. Lotz, Jr., the Army's chief of communications-electronics, told the Association of the United States Army today: "Because commanders have effective and reliable voice radio, they do not normally resort to written orders as in previous combat experiences."

Lotz said voice radio is becoming "the primary means of command and control within the division."

Crash Damages Beechwood Auto

A Beechwood woman's auto was damaged in a traffic mishap Tuesday at 2 p. m. on St. Clair Ave. at Potters Alley, police reported.

The collision involved a 1966 sedan driven by Mrs. Hazel L. Eddy, 61, of 102 Center St., Beechwood, and a 1965 sedan operated by Harry Lampinstein, 53, of 200 Walnut St., Beaver. It damaged the left door and rear panel of the Eddy auto.

Lampinstein told police he was pulling from a parking spot and did not see the Eddy car. Mrs. Eddy reported she was turning into the alley when Lampinstein's backing car struck her auto.

McLuhan Urges Museum Movies

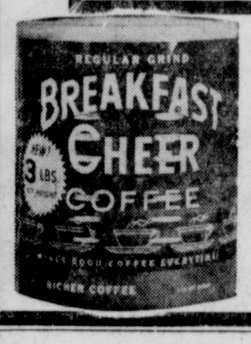

NEW YORK (AP) — Communications theorist Marshall McLuhan says museums should use more films, still photographs and audio recordings to add meaning to their exhibits.

"Museums are a magnificent illustration of Western bias toward the world of artifacts," he told a seminar of museum people here Monday.

"The Westerner, a visual man, think of art and language as representational. But we are the only civilization of which that is true," he said.

He advised exhibits fashioned along multmedia lines to reach the new generations. "Sight is the only sense that creates detachment, the others create depth and involvement," he said.

Probe Shows Carrier Fire 'Safety Lags'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Navy panel formed after a disastrous aircraft carrier fire has found many safety measures lag behind the times and tempo of operations.

Adm. James S. Russell, head of the panel, suggested a number of improvements even before his group's final report is forwarded later this month to Navy chiefs, sources report.

The improvements include installing additional firefighting and damage control equipment as well as changes in its design and location aboard the ships.

Russell also proposed that safety instructions be spelled out clearly in booklets for the crews.

The Russell panel was created in August soon after 131 Navy men died in a fire that almost gutted the carrier Forrestal standing off North Vietnam. Russell came out of retirement temporarily to handle the job.

Sources familiar with the group's preliminary findings said the Russell panel concluded that many safety measures on the carriers were based on the experience of World War II.

These days, carriers are on station longer than formerly and conduct more sustained operations.

The safety precautions have not kept up with the pace of operations and the times, sources said the Russell group found.

Fines Due TV, Radio Men Who Ignored Pickets

NEW YORK (AP) — The AFL-CIO American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (AFTRA) has levied fines totaling $48,000 on four of its members for crossing picket lines of the striking technicians' union and appearing on television here for the American Broadcasting Co.

AFTRA had ordered its members not to cross picket lines of the AFL-CIO National Association of Broadcast Employes and Technicians (NABET), which has been on strike against the ABC television and radio networks since Sept. 22 in a contract dispute.

The four men fined are among numerous performers, announcers, newscasters and disc jockeys who have individual contracts with ABC. The company contends these contracts take precedence over the employes' obligations to their union.

The fines were made public Tuesday, a few hours before NABET announced that its members employed by the National Broadcasting Co. had voted by mail, almost 2-to-1, to approve a new three-year contract with NBC.

The contract was worked out by negotiators recently without a strike. It increases the average weekly basic pay from $218 to $260 by next October and reduces the work week from 40 to 37½ hours starting next year.

Court To Study Appeal By Youth

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has agreed to hear an appeal in the case of a 15-year-old Ohio boy accused in the slaying of a neighbor woman.

The appeal, accepted Tuesday, is in behalf of Buddy Lynn Whittington of Baltimore, Ohio, charged with first-degree murder in the July 1966 death of Mrs. Gladys Willard. Whittington was 14 at the time.

In a landmark decision last term, the court held that juveniles must be granted in juvenile court proceedings many of the constitutional safeguards adult defendants have in the regular criminal courts.

But the decision left open whether these rights are to be guarded prior to the juvenile's appearance in court, such as during a police investigation.

Whittington, adjudged a delinquent, has been indicted in the slaying but has yet to be tried.

Hotel Strike Cancels 2 Pittsburgh Meetings

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A strike against the Penn-Sheraton Hotel has forced cancellation of two conventions.

The Pennsylvania Nurses Association and the Student Nurses Association say they will hold their conventions in Lancaster Nov. 27. The two groups were to have met Monday.

Talks to end the walkout by the Hotel and Restaurant Workers Association against the hotel were reported stalemated Tuesday.

Sardinia Bandits Seize 10th Man In Kidnap Wave

CAGLIARI, Sardinia (AP) — Masked gunmen made off Tuesday night with Sardinia's tenth wealthy kidnap victim of the year.

Even before news of the latest abduction reached police, the Italian Cabinet decided to ask Parliament to order an investigation of the island's crime wave that 4,000 soldiers and police have failed to break in a year-long crackdown.

The latest victim of abductors was Prof. Giuseppe Deriu, 58, a widely known X-ray specialist in Cagliari.

Bandits waylaid him just outside the city as he drove with a 50- year-old herdsman, Salvatore Sunda, to inspect some of his farmlands.

The kidnapers let Sunda go. He told police he saw five men in handkerchief masks and thought there were two more hiding in bushes along the road.

Police said they had no idea what ransom would be demanded.

The abduction of Deriu brought the total so far this year to 1966's record, when there were 10 major kidnapings on the island and 41 slayings.

Of this year's other kidnap victims, one was slain, seven came home safely after paying off, and one still is missing almost two months after he was abducted.

Ransom payments of those who returned were estimated to average $40,000 each.

Casimir Funk, a Polish chemist, discovered vitamins and named them from the words "vita," meaning life, and "Amine," the name of a certain kind of nitrogen compound.

Fines Due TV, Radio Men Who Ignored Pickets

NEW YORK (AP) — The AFL-CIO American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (AFTRA) has levied fines totaling $48,000 on four of its members for crossing picket lines of the striking technicians' union and appearing on television here for the American Broadcasting Co.

AFTRA had ordered its members not to cross picket lines of the AFL-CIO National Association of Broadcast Employes and Technicians (NABET), which has been on strike against the ABC television and radio networks since Sept. 22 in a contract dispute.

The four men fined are among numerous performers, announcers, newscasters and disc jockeys who have individual contracts with ABC. The company contends these contracts take precedence over the employes' obligations to their union.

The fines were made public Tuesday, a few hours before NABET announced that its members employed by the National Broadcasting Co. had voted by mail, almost 2-to-1, to approve a new three-year contract with NBC.

The contract was worked out by negotiators recently without a strike. It increases the average weekly basic pay from $218 to $260 by next October and reduces the work week from 40 to 37½ hours starting next year.

Court To Study Appeal By Youth

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has agreed to hear an appeal in the case of a 15-year-old Ohio boy accused in the slaying of a neighbor woman.

The appeal, accepted Tuesday, is in behalf of Buddy Lynn Whittington of Baltimore, Ohio, charged with first-degree murder in the July 1966 death of Mrs. Gladys Willard. Whittington was 14 at the time.

In a landmark decision last term, the court held that juveniles must be granted in juvenile court proceedings many of the constitutional safeguards adult defendants have in the regular criminal courts.

But the decision left open whether these rights are to be guarded prior to the juvenile's appearance in court, such as during a police investigation.

Whittington, adjudged a delinquent, has been indicted in the slaying but has yet to be tried.

Hotel Strike Cancels 2 Pittsburgh Meetings

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A strike against the Penn-Sheraton Hotel has forced cancellation of two conventions.

The Pennsylvania Nurses Association and the Student Nurses Association say they will hold their conventions in Lancaster Nov. 27. The two groups were to have met Monday.

Talks to end the walkout by the Hotel and Restaurant Workers Association against the hotel were reported stalemated Tuesday.

Sardinia Bandits Seize 10th Man In Kidnap Wave

CAGLIARI, Sardinia (AP) — Masked gunmen made off Tuesday night with Sardinia's tenth wealthy kidnap victim of the year.

Even before news of the latest abduction reached police, the Italian Cabinet decided to ask Parliament to order an investigation of the island's crime wave that 4,000 soldiers and police have failed to break in a year-long crackdown.

The latest victim of abductors was Prof. Giuseppe Deriu, 58, a widely known X-ray specialist in Cagliari.

Bandits waylaid him just outside the city as he drove with a 50- year-old herdsman, Salvatore Sunda, to inspect some of his farmlands.

The kidnapers let Sunda go. He told police he saw five men in handkerchief masks and thought there were two more hiding in bushes along the road.

Police said they had no idea what ransom would be demanded.

The abduction of Deriu brought the total so far this year to 1966's record, when there were 10 major kidnapings on the island and 41 slayings.

Of this year's other kidnap victims, one was slain, seven came home safely after paying off, and one still is missing almost two months after he was abducted.

Ransom payments of those who returned were estimated to average $40,000 each.

Casimir Funk, a Polish chemist, discovered vitamins and named them from the words "vita," meaning life, and "Amine," the name of a certain kind of nitrogen compound.

1859-1967...108 YEARS YOUNG

KNOW WHEN OUR SHIP CAME IN?

In 1859.
That was the year an imaginative 26-year old, named George H. Hartford, had a brilliant idea.

The idea?
Buy tea direct from the Orient by the clipper shipload.

Sell directly to the public, at great savings...
a small profit.

1859...that's when our ship came in
That was the beginning.
That's when our founder showed he cared about people.

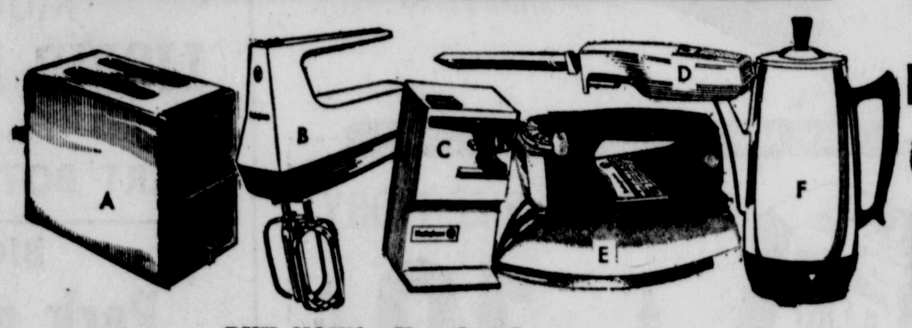

Today, in keeping with that proud heritage,
A&P is still dedicated to bringing the most good food, to the most people for the least amount of money.

Today, more than a century later, we can honestly say,
"WE CARE...about you."

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P?
It's one of many.

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy has denied through her secretary a report that she would soon announce her engagement to Britain's Lord Harlech, the former David Ormsby-Gore.

The report was published Tuesday by Women's Wear Daily.

Nancy Tuckerman, Mrs. Kennedy's secretary, later said in a statement she had been authorized by the president's widow to say that there was absolutely no truth in the report.

Lord Harlech was a close friend of the late president and served as Britain's ambassador to Washington during the Kennedy Administration.

His wife died earlier this year and Mrs. Kennedy and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., flew to England for her funeral. Lord Harlech is presently in New York on a lecture tour.

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — Baseball fan Joseph P. Kennedy was host Tuesday to a busload of the wives of the St. Louis Cardinals baseball team.

The wives had a boat ride on Kennedy's yacht, had lunch, and toured the cluster of Kennedy homes, including the one which was owned by the late President John F. Kennedy, and now is used in the summer by his widow and children.

The former ambassador to Great Britain did not want anybody to think he was being disloyal to the home team by entertaining the St. Louis visitors.

He attended the opening game for four innings last week, and is planning to see part of another—but he is rooting for it to be a seventh game on Thursday — with the Red Sox the winners.

Then he said he'll have the Red Sox team, with their wives and families as his guests for a day.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — William "Wild Bill" Davison, cornetist with the Louis Armstrong group, is reported rapidly improving after treatment for a perforated ulcer at Midway Hospital.

Davison's wife said Tuesday night her husband may still be able to depart on schedule for his annual tour of England Nov. 1.

Davison collapsed at his Hollywood home Oct. 2.

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — Actor James MacArthur, 29, son of artress Helen Hayes, has been sued for divorce by his wife of nine years, actress Joyce Collins MacArthur, 29.

Thieu Vows Viet 'Wants' Peace Offers

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's new government will seek peace negotiations and will welcome peace initiatives from any nation including Communist states, President-elect Ngiyen Van Thieu said in a major address today.

"Until this day, it is not so much that we have not expressed our desire for peace but we have many times been disappointed by the ever obstinate attitude of North Vietnam," Thieu told the opening session of the new 60-member Senate.

"Even today we still sincerely wish that the government of North Vietnam would sit down with us to discuss the logical and concrete steps toward an effective negotiation."

Thieu said his government would accept peace moves from Western, neutralist or Communist countries "provided those initiatives contribute to bring a just and lasting peace."

He dd not mention his campaign promise to offer North Vietnam a bombing pause in an effort to get peace talks started. He had said the offer depended on some sign from the North Vietnamese that they would respond to it.

In another political development, a moderate sect recognized by the government as the mother church of South Vietnam's Buddhists was reported to have agreed to suspension of this recognition in the interest of Buddhist unity.

The government charter granted the moderates was intended to shut out the politically militant faction led by Thich (Venerable) Tri Quang, which has repeaedly opposed the military government to advance its political position. After Tri Quang and three other monks kept a protest vigil for 13 days in front of the government palace and monks and nuns made several marches on the palace, Thieu promised to resolve the dispute.

Vietnam Press, the government news agency, said the charter granted the moderates would be suspended to create "a favorable atmosphere for reconciliation among the Buddhist ranks."

In his speech, Thieu warned that the South Vietnamese must increase their war efforts against the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese.

"Since this is a fight for our survival," he said, "we must not entirely depend on the help of our allies but our people must first of all be united in their unanimous determination to contribute all their efforts to the war."

He promised an immediate start on programs for social reform, to revamp the governmental bureaucracy and to eliminate corruption and inefficiency in the armed forces.

Similar promises in the past by Thieu, as chief of state in the present military government, and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky have produced few apparent results.

Texas District Seeks Poisoner Of 50 Dogs

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Residents of the northwest section of Bexar County have formed a citizens committee to hunt down the person who has poisoned more than 50 dogs in less than a week.

E. H. Whitely, chairman of the group, said a $500 reward was being offered for information leading to the poisoner.

Whitely said the dogs died after eating wieners treated with cyanide and strychnine poisons. He said a patrol by residents found 75 poison-laden wieners near roads in the area Monday.

Governor May Cheer, Not Address Stadium

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — The president of Oregon State University says California Gov. Ronald Reagan can cheer for the Southern California football team if he wants to, but he can't make a speech at the Oregon State-USC game Nov. 11.

Reagan agreed to make a short talk at the request of OSU student leaders.

But school President James Jensen said there's a rule against it. "The fans come to see the game, to let off steam — not to listen to speakers," he said.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

TV Censors Few Movies

The TV networks now are showing us movies they wouldn't have dared show five years ago, yet insist they are not lowering their standards.

Hal Humphrey

"The public is accepting more now than it was five years ago," says Ernest Lee Jacncke, vice president in charge of standards and practices for NBC. "I walk out of my office and see miniskirts on girls who would have been arrested on the street five years ago."

-:-

JACINCKE admits he was a "little nervous" when NBC telecast "Never on Sunday" as one of its recent Saturday Night Movies, but reports he received virtually no adverse post-broadcast reaction.

"We received about 10 calls in New York before it went on the air from people questioning the propriety of the picture's being on TV," he adds, "but 200 calls were logged from those wanting to know what happened to 'Never on Sunday' when we were seven minutes late getting it on the air because of the American League's double-header ball game."

The number of movies which conceivably might be considered unacceptable for TV now would run below 5 per cent of the total available, Jahncke estimates. The ribald and sexy "Tom Jones" has been purchased by NBC, which will wait until next season to air it, and, aside from a London bedroom scene, Jahncke does not foresee much will have to be edited from it.

" 'TOM JONES' takes place in a foreign country and in the year 1704, and these are things which remove it from our modern milieu and make a difference in the viewers' acceptance," says Jahncke.

Antonioni's "Blow-Up" eventually will be seen on TV, too, he predicts, with certain "judicious cuts" such as the hero's scene with two teen-age girls and an orgy scene.

Cuts were made in "Never on Sunday," including a scene which had Ilya (Melina Mercouri) taking a sailor back to her apartment, but this deletion certainly didn't deter viewers from finding out that Ilya practiced the oldest of professions (except on Sunday).

"WE WERE FORTUNATE to have Jules Dassin in town directing his wife, Miss Mercouri, in the Broadway musical version of the show, and since he directed the picture, he was happy to work with us in editing the film," says Jahncke.

Viewers themselves would seem to have a double moral standard in what they accept on TV. Sometime again on NBC's "Today" show an art show, including reproductions of Modigliani nudes, was on camera in conjunction with a New York public library show. Jahncke says "lots of calls" came in protesting the art display.

"Apparently men are more prudish than women, too," adds Jahncke, "because we ran a series of specials on women's problems — frigidity, menopause and so on — and received no complaints when they were aired in the daytime. Yet when we repeated them at night, we got calls."

IN THAT CASE, of course, many women might have objected to a nighttime exposure of such subjects before a mixed family group. Dorothy Brown, who heads ABC's broadcast standards office in Hollywood, says the public definitely accepts things in movies which it would resent if done on shows produced by TV.

"People know the movie has been seen in theaters, so therefore they anticipate and excuse dialog and situations which they wouldn't otherwise. We've found this out from experience. After all, we in TV don't invent these standards. It's the public who lets us know," insists Miss Brown.

Ironically, many movie producers were motivated by the competition of TV to make movies more adult and hence lure viewers from their living rooms. Now, however, the networks are paying such fancy prices for movies that the movie producers figure their budgets on the basis of an eventual sale to TV.

The Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C., symbolizes the Union Lincoln saved. The memorial, completed in 1922, has 36 Doric columns rimming it, one for each of the states at the time of Lincoln's death, and plaques name the 48 states at the time of its completion.

Gets Raised Priority

Soviet To Aid Consumer

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government is giving the consumer priority in 1968 for the first time.

Deputy Premier Nikolai K. Baibakov, chairman of the state planning committee, told the Soviet Parliament Tuesday that output of consumer goods next year would increase 8.6 per cent while production of heavy industry would increase 7.9 per cent.

It will be the first time that the growth rate, one of the chief priority indices in Communist economies, has been higher for consumer goods than for heavy industry.

National income is planned to rise 6.8 per cent next year, less than half the 15 per cent rate of increase in defense spending to aid North Vietnam and re-equip Arab armies. But an increase of 6.8 per cent in the national income means some 25 billion rubles, or 11 times as much as the defense increase of 2.2 billion rubles.

The ruble is valued officially at $1.11.

The emphasis is on the rising living standard from the national income growth. Ever since Joseph Stalin started industrialization, it has been the other way, machine tools being more important than shoes.

The people were told that 6 billion rubles is going to be spent on higher wages and special payments in the far north next year.

Much of this will go to pulling up the minimum monthly pay from 40 rubles to 60 rubles.

Average monthly pay over the country rose 3.5 per cent this year to 102.45 rubles, or $113.72, Baibakov said.

One of the most important consumer benefits is better housing, since Stalin didn't build any for a long time. For a decade housing construction programs have not been fulfilled and this year is no exception, but the promises are big for the next three years.

Baibakov said housing conditions for more than 60 million Soviet citizens would be improved under the five-year plan ending in 1970.

Rusk Critics Plan New Bid On Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate critics are skirmishing anew despite President Johnson's blunt notice he is not going to change his Vietnam war policies.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., called the Senate Foreign Relations Committee together today to act on another invitation of Secretary of State Dean Rusk to testify publicly in defense of Johnson's Vietnam policies.

Fulbright told Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., another vigorous critic of Johnson's course, in Senate action Tuesday that Rusk had refused to answer policy questions in open sessions of the committee since February 1966.

The principal reason administration officials declined to appear, Fulbright said, is "because it would be very embarrassing to them." But the senator said he knew of no way to force Rusk to testify.

Fulbright said he wrote Rusk for an accounting of troop commitments pledged by South Korea, Thailand and the Philippines to aid South Vietnam. He also asked how much countries aligned with assistance to South Vietnam were trading with North Vietnam.

This fresh assault on the administration's claim that 31 nations are providing assistance in one form or another to Sagon came after the Senate had voted to ask Johnson to seek United Nations economic sanctions against Hanoi.

By a 74-15 vote the Senate wrote into a pending appropriation bill an amendment by Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., expressing the "sense of Congress" that the President act to get the United Nations to clamp economic sanctions on Hanoi.

Byrd laced into the amendment the proposition that since the United States supported economic bans on the all-white Rhodesian government, it could do no less against a nation which had caused "55,888 American casualties in the first nine months of 1967."

Senators who support the administration's efforts to bring down the Rhodesian government found it difficult to vote against North Vietnam sanctions.

Elephant Alice Dies In Zoo Mercy Killing

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — A group of children, some crying, stood with their parents outside the elephant house Tuesday at Rogers Williams Park and heard the sound of four rifle shots.

"Alice is dead, Alice is dead," cried one little boy as he hid his face in his mother's skirt.

Alice, the park's 33-year-old elephant was put to a mercy death by bullets from a police rifle. She had been suffering from incurably absessed teeth and possible cancer.

She could not properly chew and digest her food, had lost 1,000 pounds in the past six months and had endured intense pain which made her potentially dangerous.

Officer Almost Cited For 'Impersonation'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Thomas Bepler came close to being arrested for impersonating a policeman.

The irony about the incident is that he is a policeman.

Patrolman Bepler was dressed in plain clothes Tuesday as he attempted to investigate a series of housebreaks.

After he told a woman he was a policeman "on a stakeout" and asked to enter her kitchen, she refused to let him enter and called the police telling them someone was impersonating a policeman.

Two police cars responded to her home and identified Bepler.

Dedication Scheduled For Colorado Pueblo

CORTEZ, Colo. (AP) — The ruins of an Indian village that thrived nearly 1,000 years ago will be dedicated as a national historic landmark in ceremonies near here Oct. 17, the Bureau of Land Management announced.

Two years of restoration work have gone into preparations for the dedication of Lowry Pueblo ruins.

Lowry Pueblo was built by the Anasazi (old ones) Indians about 1075 AD on the ruins of abandoned pit rooms of the 8th century. About 50 to 100 Indians used it for living quarters and religious ceremonies.

There are about 40 rooms in the ruins. It is believed the Pueblo was occupied for about 150 years until a great drought struck the Southwest.

'Passive Recreation' Assigned Park's Area

NEW YORK (AP) — "For Passive Recreation Only" read the recently posted signs in Carl Schurz Park next door to Gracie Mansion, the mayor's official residence.

A Department of Parks spokesman said Tuesday the signs were put up to prevent exuberant children from turning the grassy park into a dust bowl.

Discouraging political activity was not the aim, the spokesman added. He said neither Mayor John V. Lindsay or his family asked for the signs.

Mothers and nursemaids in the park said the new rule had made a great improvement.

Smithsonian Records Air, Space Pioneers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Smithsonian Institution is recording narratives by American pinoneers in aviation and space.

Assistant Director Ernest Robischon of its air and space museums said Tuesday more than 100 tape recordings already have been completed. Aviation pioneers Grover Loening, Igor Sikorsky and Jimmy Doolittle are among the narrators.

Robischon said the recordings eventually will be stored in a master tape bank, with copies available for borrowing.

Visiting Reds Admire Junk Yard's Autos

NEW YORK (AP) — The Russians nearly tipped the ship because of the Harlem River automobile junkyards Tuesday.

Wearing Japanese cameras around their necks and pointed German shoes, 37 members of the Moscow Circus left their spangled tights and baggy pants behind and circled Manhattan by boat— just as millions of other tourists had done before them.

But for the Cossack riders, acrobats, highwire artists, clowns and other performers appearing in New York, the biggest attractions weren't the ones most tourists remember. They were the automobile junkyards.

When the Statue of Liberty loomed on the right, they rushed to starboard and jockeyed for pictures of each other with the bronze lady in the background.

But when the loudspeaker of the tourist vessel announced Wall Street was in sight, they shrugged and turned their backs.

They were more excited about the Brooklyn Bridge and the East River.

The drizzle turned to rain, and there was another rush to starboard in the Harlem River. Through the pointing arms were wrecked automobiles, blue, white, black, gray, stacked neatly in piles. A bicycle wheel thrust its spokes through a dark heap.

"The director didn't come today," an interpreter said. "He said he already had seen the automobile junkyards."

2 More Firms Boost Stainless Steel Price

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two steelmakers have announced 3.5 per cent price increases for stainless steel, a move announced earlier by several other steel companies.

U.S. Steel Corp. and Jessop Steel Co. announced the price hikes Tuesday. U.S. Steel also boosted prices on nickel bearing products by $3 a ton.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

TV Censors Few Movies

The TV networks now are showing us movies they wouldn't have dared show five years ago, yet insist they are not lowering their standards.

Hal Humphrey

"The public is accepting more now than it was five years ago," says Ernest Lee Jacncke, vice president in charge of standards and practices for NBC. "I walk out of my office and see miniskrts on girls who would have been arrested on the street five years ago."

-:-

JACINCKE admits he was a "little nervous" when NBC telecast "Never on Sunday" as one of its recent Saturday Night Movies, but reports he received virtually no adverse post-broadcast reaction.

"We received about 10 calls in New York before it went on the air from people questioning the propriety of the picture's being on TV," he adds, "but 200 calls were logged from those wanting to know what happened to 'Never on Sunday' when we were seven minutes late getting it on the air because of the American League's double-header ball game."

The number of movies which conceivably might be considered unacceptable for TV now would run below 5 per cent of the total available, Jahncke estimates. The ribald and sexy "Tom Jones" has been purchased by NBC, which will wait until next season to air it, and, aside from a London bedroom scene, Jahncke does not foresee much will have to be edited from it.

" 'TOM JONES' takes place in a foreign country and in the year 1704, and these are things which remove it from our modern milieu and make a difference in the viewers' acceptance," says Jahncke.

Antonioni's "Blow-Up" eventually will be seen on TV, too, he predicts, with certain "judicious cuts" such as the hero's scene with two teen-age girls and an orgy scene.

Cuts were made in "Never on Sunday," including a scene which had Ilya (Melina Mercouri) taking a sailor back to her apartment, but this deletion certainly didn't deter viewers from finding out that Ilya practiced the oldest of professions (except on Sunday).

"WE WERE FORTUNATE to have Jules Dassin in town directing his wife, Miss Mercouri, in the Broadway musical version of the show, and since he directed the picture, he was happy to work with us in editing the film," says Jahncke.

Viewers themselves would seem to have a double moral standard in what they accept on TV. Sometime again on NBC's "Today" show an art show, including reproductions of Modigliani nudes, was on camera in conjunction with a New York public library show. Jahncke says "lots of calls" came in protesting the art display.

"Apparently men are more prudish than women, too," adds Jahncke, "because we ran a series of specials on women's problems — frigidity, menopause and so on — and received no complaints when they were aired in the daytime. Yet when we repeated them at night, we got calls."

IN THAT CASE, of course, many women might have objected to a nighttime exposure of such subjects before a mixed family group. Dorothy Brown, who heads ABC's broadcast standards office in Hollywood, says the public definitely accepts things in movies which it would resent if done on shows produced by TV.

"People know the movie has been seen in theaters, so therefore they anticipate and excuse dialog and situations which they wouldn't otherwise. We've found this out from experience. After all, we in TV don't invent these standards. It's the public who lets us know," insists Miss Brown.

Ironically, many movie producers were motivated by the competition of TV to make movies more adult and hence lure viewers from their living rooms. Now, however, the networks are paying such fancy prices for movies that the movie producers figure their budgets on the basis of an eventual sale to TV.

Gets Raised Priority

Soviet To Aid Consumer

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government is giving the consumer priority in 1968 for the first time.

Deputy Premier Nikolai K. Baibakov, chairman of the state planning committee, told the Soviet Parliament Tuesday that output of consumer goods next year would increase 8.6 per cent while production of heavy industry would increase 7.9 per cent.

It will be the first time that the growth rate, one of the chief priority indices in Communist economies, has been higher for consumer goods than for heavy industry.

National income is planned to rise 6.8 per cent next year, less than half the 15 per cent rate of increase in defense spending to aid North Vietnam and re-equip Arab armies. But an increase of 6.8 per cent in the national income means some 25 billion rubles, or 11 times as much as the defense increase of 2.2 billion rubles.

The ruble is valued officially at $1.11.

The emphasis is on the rising living standard from the national income growth. Ever since Joseph Stalin started industrialization, it has been the other way, machine tools being more important than shoes.

The people were told that 6 billion rubles is going to be spent on higher wages and special payments in the far north next year.

Much of this will go to pulling up the minimum monthly pay from 40 rubles to 60 rubles.

Average monthly pay over the country rose 3.5 per cent this year to 102.45 rubles, or $113.72, Baibakov said.

One of the most important consumer benefits is better housing, since Stalin didn't build any for a long time. For a decade housing construction programs have not been fulfilled and this year is no exception, but the promises are big for the next three years.

Baibakov said housing conditions for more than 60 million Soviet citizens would be improved under the five-year plan ending in 1970.

Rusk Critics Plan New Bid On Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate critics are skirmishing anew despite President Johnson's blunt notice he is not going to change his Vietnam war policies.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., called the Senate Foreign Relations Committee together today to act on another invitation of Secretary of State Dean Rusk to testify publicly in defense of Johnson's Vietnam policies.

Fulbright told Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., another vigorous critic of Johnson's course, in Senate action Tuesday that Rusk had refused to answer policy questions in open sessions of the committee since February 1966.

The principal reason administration officials declined to appear, Fulbright said, is "because it would be very embarrassing to them." But the senator said he knew of no way to force Rusk to testify.

Fulbright said he wrote Rusk for an accounting of troop commitments pledged by South Korea, Thailand and the Philippines to aid South Vietnam. He also asked how much countries aligned with assistance to South Vietnam were trading with North Vietnam.

This fresh assault on the administration's claim that 31 nations are providing assistance in one form or another to Sagon came after the Senate had voted to ask Johnson to seek United Nations economic sanctions against Hanoi.

By a 74-15 vote the Senate wrote into a pending appropriation bill an amendment by Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., expressing the "sense of Congress" that the President act to get the United Nations to clamp economic sanctions on Hanoi.

Byrd laced into the amendment the proposition that since the United States supported economic bans on the all-white Rhodesian government, it could do no less against a nation which had caused "55,888 American casualties in the first nine months of 1967."

Senators who support the administration's efforts to bring down the Rhodesian government found it difficult to vote against North Vietnam sanctions.

Elephant Alice Dies In Zoo Mercy Killing

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — A group of children, some crying, stood with their parents outside the elephant house Tuesday at Rogers Williams Park and heard the sound of four rifle shots.

"Alice is dead, Alice is dead," cried one little boy as he hid his face in his mother's skirt.

Alice, the park's 33-year-old elephant was put to a mercy death by bullets from a police rifle. She had been suffering from incurably absessed teeth and possible cancer.

She could not properly chew and digest her food, had lost 1,000 pounds in the past six months and had endured intense pain which made her potentially dangerous.

Officer Almost Cited For 'Impersonation'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Thomas Bepler came close to being arrested for impersonating a policeman.

The irony about the incident is that he is a policeman.

Patrolman Bepler was dressed in plain clothes Tuesday as he attempted to investigate a series of housebreaks.

After he told a woman he was a policeman "on a stakeout" and asked to enter her kitchen, she refused to let him enter and called the police telling them someone was impersonating a policeman.

Two police cars responded to her home and identified Bepler.

Dedication Scheduled For Colorado Pueblo

CORTEZ, Colo. (AP) — The ruins of an Indian village that thrived nearly 1,000 years ago will be dedicated as a national historic landmark in ceremonies near here Oct. 17, the Bureau of Land Management announced.

Two years of restoration work have gone into preparations for the dedication of Lowry Pueblo ruins.

Lowry Pueblo was built by the Anasazi (old ones) Indians about 1075 AD on the ruins of abandoned pit rooms of the 8th century. About 50 to 100 Indians used it for living quarters and religious ceremonies.

There are about 40 rooms in the ruins. It is believed the Pueblo was occupied for about 150 years until a great drought struck the Southwest.

'Passive Recreation' Assigned Park's Area

NEW YORK (AP) — "For Passive Recreation Only" read the recently posted signs in Carl Schurz Park next door to Gracie Mansion, the mayor's official residence.

A Department of Parks spokesman said Tuesday the signs were put up to prevent exuberant children from turning the grassy park into a dust bowl.

Discouraging political activity was not the aim, the spokesman added. He said neither Mayor John V. Lindsay or his family asked for the signs.

Mothers and nursemaids in the park said the new rule had made a great improvement.

Smithsonian Records Air, Space Pioneers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Smithsonian Institution is recording narratives by American pinoneers in aviation and space.

Assistant Director Ernest Robischon of its air and space museums said Tuesday more than 100 tape recordings already have been completed. Aviation pioneers Grover Loening, Igor Sikorsky and Jimmy Doolittle are among the narrators.

Robischon said the recordings eventually will be stored in a master tape bank, with copies available for borrowing.

Visiting Reds Admire Junk Yard's Autos

NEW YORK (AP) — The Russians nearly tipped the ship because of the Harlem River automobile junkyards Tuesday.

Wearing Japanese cameras around their necks and pointed German shoes, 37 members of the Moscow Circus left their spangled tights and baggy pants behind and circled Manhattan by boat— just as millions of other tourists had done before them.

But for the Cossack riders, acrobats, highwire artists, clowns and other performers appearing in New York, the biggest attractions weren't the ones most tourists remember. They were the automobile junkyards.

The Russians leaned on the rail to gaze through fog and rain at Hoboken, N.J., and peered at the big ship piers along the Hudson River.

When the Statue of Liberty loomed on the right, they rushed to starboard and jockeyed for pictures of each other with the bronze lady in the background.

But when the loudspeaker of the tourist vessel announced Wall Street was in sight, they shrugged and turned their backs.

They were more excited about the Brooklyn Bridge and the East River.

The drizzle turned to rain, and there was another rush to starboard in the Harlem River. Through the pointing arms were wrecked automobiles, blue, white, black, gray, stacked neatly in piles. A bicycle wheel thrust its spokes through a dark heap.

"The director didn't come today," an interpreter said. "He said he already had seen the automobile junkyards."

2 More Firms Boost Stainless Steel Price

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two steelmakers have announced 3.5 per cent price increases for stainless steel, a move announced earlier by several other steel companies.

U.S. Steel Corp. and Jessop Steel Co. announced the price hikes Tuesday. U.S. Steel also boosted prices on nickel bearing products by $3 a ton.

Junior Editors Quiz on PREHISTORIC ANIMALS

QUESTION: Why did prehistoric animals disappear?

ANSWER: Many races of prehistoric creatures did not disappear; their descendants are still living today. Turtles are one example. Scientist are uncertain why other ancient animals became extinct, but suggest several theories. One possibility is that some animals could not adapt themselves to the great changes taking place in the earth's climate. Once, warm, shallow seas covered areas which are now such states as Kansas, Wyoming and Montana. Grotesque flying reptiles, the pterodactyls, glided over these seas, using updraughts of warm air for support. Later the land lifted up, the warm seas drained off and it became colder. Now there were not enough updraughts of warm air to keep the pterodactyls aloft. Unable to fly, they became extinct. Changes in feeding habits may have also affected certain ancient animals. For example, once the great sabre-toothed cat, Smilodon, preyed on gigantic slow-moving mammals like mammoths. When the mammoths and giant sloths became extinct, Smilodon's food supply also vanished. Since he was too slow and clumsy to catch smaller, faster animals, he, too, became extinct.

General Motors Recalls 17,799 Trucks, Buses

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors said Tuesday it was recalling 17,799 trucks or buses because of the possibility that their brakes are defective.

Chevrolet recalled 1,200 new 1968 model medium duty trucks and GMC Truck and Coach Division recalled 16,599 medium duty 1967 and 1968 models E and S 4500-6500.

The vehicles, the company said, may have been improperly welded in spots by the supplier of some brake booster diaphragm plates.

This could lead to loss of power assist "resulting in abnormal brake pedal effort to stop the vehicle," the announcement said.

The condition was discovered on the assembly line and involves trucks built before Sept. 14, Chevrolet said, adding that the diaphragm would be replaced by dealers at no cost to truck owners.

Surcharge Eyed On Postal Rates Of Big Magazines

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted tentatively to slap a postage surcharge on the nation's mass-circulation magazines.

It adopted the proposal by Rep. Ken Hechler, D-W.Va., 98 to 50 Tuesday as it began to consider the big postal rate-federal pay bill.

The amendment, subject to a roll call when action is completed on some 45 amendments late today or Thursday, would affect some 46 publications, each with mail circulations of more than 500,000.

Publishers would have to pay an extra .3 cents for each copy above that level on top of the basic second-class charge, which is now 1 cent but which would go up to 1.3 cents over the next three years.

When consideration of the bill resumes today, the first order of business will be another Hechler proposal—to raise sharply the rate on third-class bulk mail, which Hechler and others call "junk mail."

The pending bill would raise the minimum third-class rate from 2.875 cents to 3.8 cents—about 82 per cent of what the Post Office Department estimates as the cost of handling. Hechler would raise his to 4.5 cents.

Hailstorms seldom last more than 15 minutes.

News 'Blackout' Hints Ford Stalemate Break

DETROIT (AP) — A news blackout cloaked auto labor negotiations today, indicating a break could be near in the 35-day strike against Ford Motor Co.

The 24-hour blackout, announced in a joint statement by Ford and the striking United Auto Workers union, ends at 9 p.m. EDT. It was likely any joint talks before then would be held in total secrecy with no announcement.

Traditionally such a blackout has meant that one side—or both—has made a move in deadlocked talks, although immediate settlement has not always resulted.

The strike has idled 160,000 workers at Ford plants in 25 states, cut off the company's production at the critical period of model introduction and caused layoffs in some supplier industries.

The blackout was announced as both sides huddled separately Tuesday night in the vast Ford headquarters known as the Glass House in suburban Dearborn.

The sessions were the first at night since the strike began Sept. 6, climaxing two months of fruitless efforts to write a new three-year contract embodying what UAW President Walter P. Reuther has called the most ambitious demands in the union's history.

Although there was no joint meeting, a union spokesman said the two sides had been in touch "by various means."

Reuther and his top bargainers left the building shortly before midnight while the Ford team, headed by Malcolm L. Denise, remained until early morning.

"I hope I'll be back Wednesday," said Reuther as he left.

Asked if the company had made a new proposal—it's made only one that has been publicly announced since talks opened in July—Reuther said: "I don't want to comment on that because we would be violating an understanding we have."

Denise refused to confirm or deny that the company had made a new offer.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special federal grand jury is investigating the financial affairs of Adam Clayton Powell to determine whether to bring him to trial on charges ranging from bribery of public officials to improper use of public money.

Court records show the jury, which will begin taking testimony next week, is also to look into possible violations of laws against making false claims against the government and wilful concealment of facts from government agencies.

Powell was denied his congressional seat at the start of this session of Congress after a committee heard charges he had misused public funds. Powell was re-elected in special election. He has made no move to take his seat.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Peace Corps is looking for doctors who have "something bugging them about the practice of medicine," says Dr. Stanley C. Scheyer, director of the Peace Corps' Office of Medical Programs.

The reason for the search for older physicians is that the new draft law has cut off the Peace Corps' prime source of doctors. The revision bars the practice of the U.S. Public Health Service of assigning doctors to two-year hitches to care for the corps' volunteers. Previously Peace Corps service fulfilled a doctor's two-year military obligation.

"Now that the draft exemption is gone, we've been receiving letters from applicants saying they can't take two years out of their lives to serve in the Peace Corps and then another two years for military service," Scheyer said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sprint —one of two interceptor missiles planned for the nation's antiballistic missile defense system—has been put through its toughest flight test.

The Pentagon reported the missile—designed as a short range weapon in the China-oriented ABM system — maneuvered sharply on command and withstood tremendous air friction. The tests took place at the White Sands Missile Range in New Mexico.

Sprint is designed to intercept nuclear warheads penetrating the atmosphere above the United States. Spartan, the ABM system's longer range weapon, will make intercepts outside the atmosphere.

Capital Footnotes

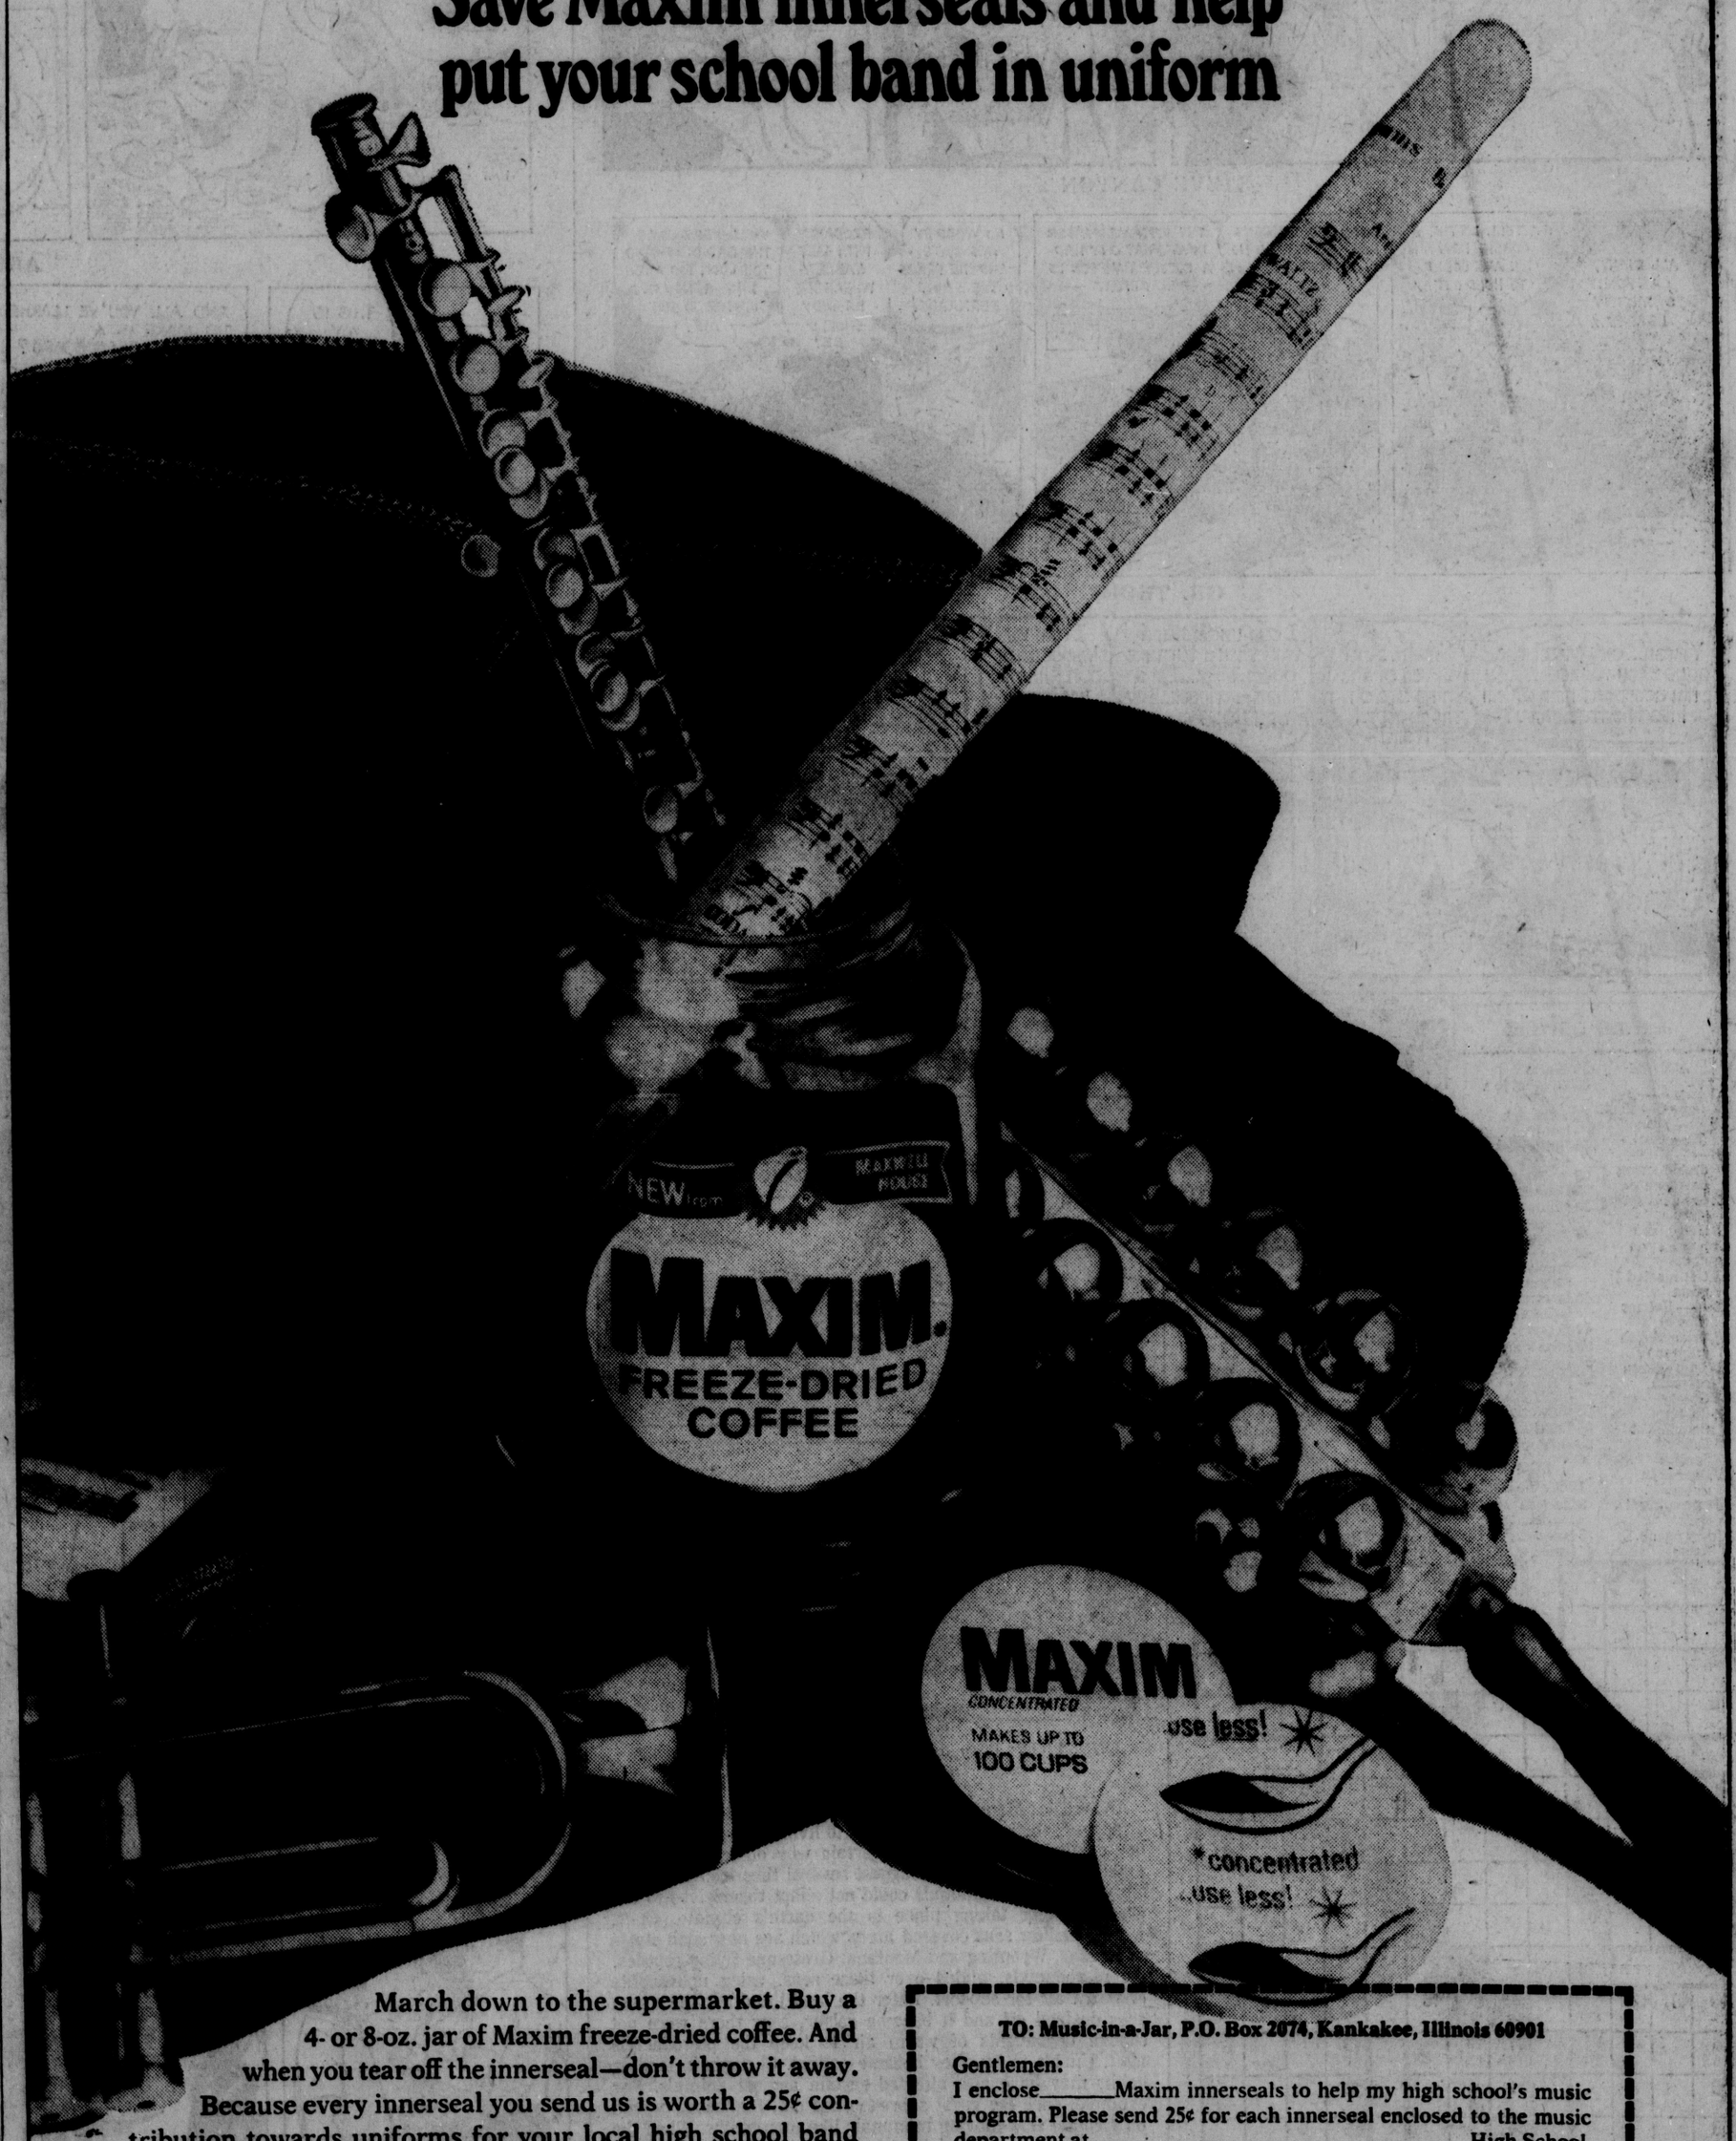

President Johnson is expected to offer Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, 67, another extension of active duty as head of the Navy's nuclear propulsion program. Such action is backed by many congressmen. Congress has four times blocked plans of Rickover's naval superiors to retire him.

Capital Quote

"The atmosphere now is much more conciliatory in the South. There is more desire to negotiate on the question of civil rights rulings. But if all this fails, we will not hesitate to terminate federal assistance." — Peter Libassi, civil rights aide in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, reporting that Southern schools are showing increasing signs of complying with federal desegregation rulings.

But if all this fails, we will not hesitate to terminate federal assistance." — Peter Libassi, civil rights aide in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, reporting that Southern schools are showing increasing signs of complying with federal desegregation rulings.

General Motors Recalls 17,799 Trucks, Buses

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors said Tuesday it was recalling 17,799 trucks or buses because of the possibility that their brakes are defective.

Chevrolet recalled 1,200 new 1968 model medium duty trucks and GMC Truck and Coach Division recalled 16,599 medium duty 1967 and 1968 models E and S 4500-6500.

The vehicles, the company said, may have been improperly welded in spots by the supplier of some brake booster diaphragm plates.

This could lead to loss of power assist "resulting in abnormal brake pedal effort to stop the vehicle," the announcement said.

The condition was discovered on the assembly line and involves trucks built before Sept. 14, Chevrolet said, adding that the diaphragm would be replaced by dealers at no cost to truck owners.

Surcharge Eyed On Postal Rates Of Big Magazines

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted tentatively to slap a postage surcharge on the nation's mass-circulation magazines.

It adopted the proposal by Rep. Ken Hechler, D-W.Va., 98 to 50 Tuesday as it began to consider the big postal rate-federal pay bill.

The amendment, subject to a roll call when action is completed on some 45 amendments late today or Thursday, would affect some 46 publications, each with mail circulations of more than 500,000.

Publishers would have to pay an extra .3 cents for each copy above that level on top of the basic second-class charge, which is now 1 cent but which would go up to 1.3 cents over the next three years.

When consideration of the bill resumes today, the first order of business will be another Hechler proposal—to raise sharply the rate on third-class bulk mail, which Hechler and others call "junk mail."

The pending bill would raise the minimum third-class rate from 2.875 cents to 3.8 cents—about 82 per cent of what the Post Office Department estimates as the cost of handling. Hechler would raise his to 4.5 cents.

Hailstorms seldom last more than 15 minutes.
